CHARGES G. O. P. LETS RELIGIOUS ISSUE CREEP IN

Assails Owen and Mrs. Willebrandt.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 20. —

[Special.]—Al Smith tonight is tearing into bigotry and the klan within hearing of 35,000 excited men and women of the most klan-ridden section of the United States. He is not mincing one word. He is not evading one phase of this dynamic laden question.

"I refer," he is saying, now, "I specifically refer to the question of my religion."

At those words the people become rigid with attention.

Hot Words Into Abyss of Silence.

"Ordinarily," continues the Democratic nominee, dropping each word hotly into the abyss of silence he has created, "ordinarily that word 'religion' should never be used in a political campaign."

"The necessity for using it is forced on me by Senator Owen, and his kind, and I feel that, at least once in this campaign, I, as the candidate of the Democratic party, owe it to the people of this country to discuss frankly and openly with them this attempt of Senator Owen and the forces behind him to inject bigotry, hatred, intolerance and un-American sectarian division into a campaign which should be an intelligent debate on the important issues, which confront the American people."

Forces Religious Issue.

Then the avalanche!

Clenching his fists and stretching his arms straight before him he shouts the word "Says," it is he is saying, "that in 1928, in view of countless billions of dollars that we have poured into the cause of public education, to see some American citizens proclaiming themselves hundred per cent American and then in the very document in which they make that proclamation suggesting that I be defeated for the presidency because of my religious beliefs."

From the moment of his utterance of those words "my religious beliefs," he forces the issue with crashing bullet words in the right and left legs and in the groin.

Capone, who has throughout his period of power guarded himself so well from the bullets of his enemies that none ever came even close to getting him, shot himself accidentally last Saturday morning after he and Johnny Patton, familiarly known as "The Boy Mayor of Burnham," had finished a game of golf on the Burnham golf links.

Gun Still in Pocket.

According to the current story, Capone and Patton were getting into an automobile when the gun chief's caliber pistol was discharged. It was still in Capone's right hip pocket. The bullet plowed down through the fleshy part of his right leg, narrowly missed the abdomen and then impaled itself in his left leg.

Patton took his wounded friend in great haste to the Hammond hospital, where he was given an extensive suite under the name of Geary. A physician was summoned and the treatment of the wounds began. Latest reports were that only time is necessary for a complete recovery of the shooting victim.

Occupy Five Rooms.

To all outward appearances, St. Margaret's is the same quiet hospital it has always been. But Capone and his entourage now occupy five rooms. The Big Fellow, as he is known in gang circles, has one. The other four are used as sleeping quarters by fifteen grim men who are there to see that no one slips in.

Pistols are not flashed around the corridors, but the sentinels remain at all times ready to care for unwelcome visitors. And so well has the secret of Capone's identity been kept that no word of his accident leaked out until yesterday.

Visitors have been politely told by the hospital authorities that "Mr. Geary" does not wish to be disturbed. Apparently the police are unaware of what has happened to him. Not even the name of his physician, a Hammond practitioner, was available through the usual channels.

Campaign One of Guards.

Among the guards who are kept on the watch at the institution are Tony (Little New York) Campaigna, one of the Genaro brothers, and four others known in the cryptic language of the gang circles as La Cava, Folko, Perry, and Marcus.

Alphonse Capone, Chicago's most spectacular gang chieftain, is in St. Margaret's hospital, Hammond, with bullet wounds in the right and left legs and in the groin.

Capone, who has throughout his period of power guarded himself so well from the bullets of his enemies that none ever came even close to getting him, shot himself accidentally last Saturday morning after he and Johnny Patton, familiarly known as "The Boy Mayor of Burnham," had finished a game of golf on the Burnham golf links.

On the application for a marriage license, Mrs. Stack gave her age as 16 and said her husband is 54 years old. They were first married in 1915 and have two children.

Divorce Bitterly Contested.

The divorce, in 1921, was awarded only after a bitter contest. Mr. Stack charged that his young bride neglected her household duties in her ambition to follow the operatic career of her father. He also charged cruelty. After getting a decree she studied music in Europe for three years.

CAUGHT FLEEING ACCIDENT; HAS A CORONER'S STAR

Harry Lewis, 39 years old, colored undertaker and former henchman of Dan Jackson, Thompson-Crowe political leader in the 2d ward, was caught by police early this morning after he had fled from the scene of an automobile accident at 47th street and Michigan avenue. Lewis was armed with a pistol and was a deputy coroner's star when arrested, the police said.

He fled after his car crashed into a taxicab driven by Arthur Bowland. Policeman F. H. McGraw of Salt Lake City was riding in the cab.

Locked up at the Wabash avenue station, Lewis refused to make a statement. For years he was secretary to Jackson, who was recently appointed a member of the state commerce commission by Gov. Small.

BOMB WRECKS SALTIS SALOON ON SOUTH SIDE

A bomb explosion early this morning wrecked the front of the saloon of John Ruddy at 1528 West 51st street, and shattered windows in several near by dwellings. The place is said to be controlled by Joe Suttis, south side beer baron, and is known as a hangout of John (Dingbat) Oberst, Saltis' lieutenant, and Republican committeeman of the 13th ward.

Mrs. Theresa Dolan and her two children, and Michael Reszka, owner of the building, and his family, who live in flats above the saloon, were hurried from their beds by the blast, but were uninjured. The damage was estimated at $2,000.

Ruddy, who resides at 1718 West 51st street, was taken into custody and questioned by Sergt. Emil Bellus of New City police, but could advance no motive for the bombing. He is a brother of Michael Ruddy, Republican nominee for state representative from the 4th district.

Saltis has been sought for 123 days to serve a 90 day sentence in the Bridge-well for gun toting.

Demand Mayor and Ettelson Quit Offices

Representatives of ninety-five community clubs on the northwest side, dissatisfied with the way the city administration has been handling the feeder bus question, met last night in the nekhouse of Independence park and adopted two resolutions.

One called on Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson to resign.

The other suggested to Mayor William Hale Thompson that perhaps he, too, could serve the city better by resigning than by holding to his office.

Demand Feeder Buses.

The combined organizations, known as the Northwest Federation of Improvement Clubs, has been trying for months to get feeder buses for territory in which the surface lines are far from homes. The action of the mayor in vetoing a city ordinance calling for the feeder system has met with their disapproval.

Among the things charged in the resolution concerning Mr. Ettelson are that he disobeyed an order of the city council to represent the car riders in their fight for bus service and transfers for a single cent fare and that he was once an attorney for the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Remind Mayor of Promise.

Mayor Thompson was reminded that during his campaign for the mayoralty he told the citizens of the northwest side that he would personally see to it that 7 cents would be the price they'd pay for a combined bus and surface car ride. In the discussion that preceded the vote one delegate quipped the mayor as saying then: "I'll club the city council into giving you people this service if that's the only way for you to get it."

But the principal objection to a continuance of the Thompson incumbency, it was related, is the mayor's ill health. He is forced to remain so much of the time away from the city, the delegates held, that there would be an improvement if some one capable of staying on the job regularly were made the city's chief executive.

Advice Doctor for Thompson.

Although it wasn't put in the resolution, Raymond O'Keefe of the Central Northwest Business Men's association suggested on the floor that it might be well for Mayor Thompson to be placed under the complete care of physicians. Other speakers said they never could get answers to letters sent him on traction matters.

The total attendance at the meeting was 150. One vote was cast against the demand that Mr. Ettelson go and the suggestion that the mayor ought to resign.

Aldermen Join in Protest.

Members of the council joined with the northwest side in their protest.

"The commission has openly defied the will of the people of Chicago," declared Ald. Joseph B. McDonough (13th), while Ald. Oscar Nelson (46th), the mayor's floor leader, admitted that the mayor had been "poorly advised." Ald. Thomas J. Bowler (41st), asserted that the organizations in his ward will appeal to the courts and make a "fight to the finish."

COMMISSION IS SPLIT

At least one member of the Illinois commerce commission favors the operation of street car feeder bus lines. It developed yesterday, and a second passed his vote when the commission, at Springfield Wednesday, decided against the issuance of permits for such lines as being illegal.

Chairman Patrick H. Moynihan, after the session, announced that the decision was "practically unanimous."

In a telegram to officials here yesterday, William J. Smith, member from Waukegan, denied that the commission was in full accord.

"The fact is I introduced a motion authorizing use of special equipment (Continued on page 10, column 3.)

COMERFORD IN COURT URGES CHIEF TO ACT

Loesch Bares Family Tree of Crime.

Annihilation of the Mafia in Chicago was ordered from the bench yesterday by Judge Frank Comerford of the Criminal court.

Calling Commissioner of Police William F. Russell before him, Judge Comerford directed him to concentrate the entire police department in a drive to exterminate by force the secret Sicilian band of players, terrorists, kidnapers, and Black Hand extortionists and the corrupt politicians who protect the Mafia and shape its policy.

An added force to this command, which Judge Comerford said he would back up with the full powers of his court, came from Frank J. Loesch, special prosecutor before the special grand jury and president of the Chicago crime commission. From his office at the commission Mr. Loesch is sued an expose of the "family tree" of Chicago's crime tribe.

Judge Comerford Commanded.

Mr. Loesch commended the action of Judge Comerford, and then he sketched the crime family, reaching through others to the chieftains and the hiring of the Mafia. Never before had the real picture of the alliance of crime and politics been so clearly outlined, Mr. Loesch believed.

Meeting Judge Comerford's instruction, Commissioner Russell and Deputy Commissioner John Stege, both of whom were addressed by the court, last night laid plans for the assault on the criminal band.

The occasion for the judge's action was a hearing growing out of the kidnapping by Sicilian outlaws of Billy Hanley, 10 year old son of A. Frank Hanley. The boy was freed by his captors on Tuesday night when police were close to a rescue.

Judge Comerford continued until this afternoon the hearing of charges against Angelo Pettit, moonshiner at 1737 Polk street. And last night Assistant State's Attorneys Charles J. Mueller and Samuel Hoffman obtained statements from two witnesses who swore that Pettit carried on negotiations with the father of the kidnapped boy, demanding ransom of $50,000 before the lad would be released.

Edward Firpe, vice consul for the Italian people in Chicago, sat on the bench with Judge Comerford as the latter issued his fiery call to the police.

"Commissioner Russell, will you please step to the bar?" Judge Comerford said. The police commissioner made forward.

Judge Orders War on Mafia.

"How many men have you on your police force?" the court asked.

"There were 5,641 when I counted last," was the reply.

"Very well. Now, commissioner, I say to you that a few hundred cutthroats, described as the Mafia of Chicago, have challenged and threatened the right of three million people in this city to live happily in peace and security."

"Five thousand six hundred policemen can subdue these lawless few hundreds without difficulty and restore the safety of our homes and our children."

Frances Russell and Stege.

"These criminals who have handed together and by threats and campaigns have stifled the tongues of all whom they victimize, and who attempt intimidation when prosecutions are threatened against them, have successfully resisted whatever efforts have been made to suppress them."

"I have the fullest confidence in the present commissioner of police and his aids. It is my opinion that Mr. Russell and Mr. Stege are the most valuable police heads we have had for some years."

"So I suggest to you, Commissioner Russell, that you use all the power of your department, thousands of your men, if necessary, in concentrating against these Mafia gunmen."

Pledges His Corps is Clean.

"Remove by annihilation the few hundreds who challenge the three million. I assure you that this branch of the Criminal court is always open to you in this fight against a real menace. You shall not wait for the full support of the court, and I direct you to bring these Camorrista before me and I shall deal with them."

Judge Comerford read a long passage from an article which appeared in Wednesday in an afternoon newspaper, and which stated that on Tuesday a "high police official" had called in a "prominent Sicilian politician" and ordered them to see to the immediate release of the Ranieri boy.

The article declared the police official had offered not to prosecute the kidnapers if the boy were released, and that as a result of the conference little Billy was freed.

Asks Inquiry Into Charge.

"The situation is one in which the public is aroused to a high sense of indignation against these Mafia men," Judge Comerford said. "They will demand to know, and be entitled to know, if police officials in this case bargained with politicians, and if I suggest to you, Commissioner Russell, that you communicate with the editors of that newspaper, to learn what information they had on which to base such a story, and to punish the men guilty if the story is true. I am sure the editors will be more than glad to cooperate with the police department in getting at the bottom of this outrage."

"The court will want to know, commissioner, if it is true that a 'high police official' and 'prominent politicians' were accessories after the fact to this kidnapping and are guilty of obstructing justice in the manner described. I have no information, no ground other than is stated in this article, but I believe the newspapers are generally reliable."

Police Heads Deny Report.

Commissioner Russell replied that he would be pleased to question the newspaper's editors.

"For myself," he added, "I want to deny that story, 100 per cent. I don't believe it is true. Deputy Stage is here, and I'd like to hear from him."

"I can only reiterate what the commissioner has said," Deputy Stage said. "We have been working night and day ever since the boy was kidnapped, and finally we bring the case to a point where we are about to rescue the lad and the kidnapers, and, stricken, let him go. We don't want any thanks or credit, but this is a bit thick."

Judge Comerford repeated that he had the highest regard for the manner in which Commissioner Russell, Deputy Stage and Capt. James E. Doherty of Cragin police directed the case. He said he thought other members of the police department might have engaged in the pact with the Mafia politicians.

Russell Looks Into Charge.

After the court session Commissioner Russell called the managing editor of the afternoon newspaper printing the story, and said he looked about the charges made in it. The reporter who had written it had gone home, and the editor would try to find out about it tomorrow and let the commissioner know, was the trend of the conversation, the police commissioner said.

When Judge Comerford took up the case of the prisoner Pettiti, Prosecutor Mueller said he was still questioning witnesses, and seeking others, and asked a delay until this afternoon. Attorney Bernard J. McDonnell, for Pettiti, objected, but Judge Comerford granted the short continuance.

Last night Nicholas Ranieri, uncle of Billy, was placed under guard at the Hotel Sherman. He is regarded as the principal witness against Pettiti, and feared attempts might be made to assassinate him.

The uncle's testimony to the pro-

New Orleans Traces Mafia to Prison Comedy in Sicily

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New Orleans, La., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—In the last two decades the main scenes of the Mafia operations have been shifted from New Orleans to northern cities like Chicago and New York. Occasionally there is a killing among the Sicilians, but the police do not often attribute it to the secret societies, and the students of crime—the police reporters—say for years little has been heard of the Mafia here in connection with crimes of violence.

Police circles still talk of the historic lynchings at the parish prison about forty years ago, under the leadership of prominent citizens after a miscarriage of justice in the case of the assassin of Police Chief David Hennessy, and they declare that after the Mafia began to wane it did not get revivification from the bootleg and alky millions which followed Volsteadism, as happened in Chicago and New York. The liquor racket here is loosely articulated and has different racial lines. Here it is more American than Italian.

Originated in Prison Play.

But the experts in New Orleans know all about the Mafia—from long experience years ago. It is one of those secret organizations which Naples calls the Camorra, and Sicily the Mafia. Each has a single purpose—blackmail. The strong tyrannies over the weak and if their demands are refused or their secrets betrayed they avenge themselves with the knife or the sawed off shotgun.

One of the local historians says in 1861 Risotti, a Sicilian dramatist, wrote a comedy of prison life. He humorously described a cliche about the jailers and the prisoners, whereby the strong prisoners were to keep order and levy tribute on the weaker inmates and share profits with the jailer.

The dramatist called his play "La Mafia." When the critics asked what it meant, he said it was a bit of prison argot meaning the compact between the wardens and prisoners. This is said to have been the first public use of the name.

One Stream Drifts to Chicago.

Palermo was the theater of the Mafia. From this metropolis, nesting in its orange groves, came some of the immigrants from which part of Chicago's underworld was recruited. The Genna family, of the alcohol racket, several members of which were hanged out in one of Chicago's gang wars a few years ago, came from Palermo. Their servitors who cooked the alcohol were Palermo peasants, and a considerable part of Chicago's gangland has had for background the environment of Palermo, the old Mafia stronghold.

At the time New Orleans was most interested in the Mafia, which has since felt the boot of Mussolini, the brigands in Sicily were the dominant class. Proprietors of the great estates had their possessions guarded by brigands who, under the name of the Mafia, were the great guardians of the Mafia. The Mafia, which has since felt the boot of Mussolini, the brigands in Sicily were the dominant class. Proprietors of the great estates had their possessions guarded by brigands who, under the name of the Mafia, were the great guardians of the Mafia.

Forerunner of Chicago Today.

The wealthy were protected by their friendship with one or more noted brigands who, under the name of the Mafia, were the great guardians of the Mafia. The Mafia, which has since felt the boot of Mussolini, the brigands in Sicily were the dominant class. Proprietors of the great estates had their possessions guarded by brigands who, under the name of the Mafia, were the great guardians of the Mafia.

The system was of long growth and it culminated in a score of federations of the vast robber unions in Sicily to which the name Mafia was applied as a generic term. It became the aggregation of all the criminal classes on the island.

Law Vested in the Individual.

It was not only the fear of sudden death which aided the Mafia in Chicago, and gave it power, but it was the custom in that land of taking the law into one's own hands and making it dishonorable to do otherwise.

Thus under the Mafia, Sicily became one great gangland—the wealthy associated with the bandits on a basis of mutual protection. The bandits preyed on society and levied tribute and blackmail, with death the penalty for refusal; and, with that as background, educated in Mafiaism and brought up in these habits of thought and living, fleeing criminals transplanted the Mafia to America, where its first great growth was in New Orleans, and its present main seats of activity are Chicago and New York.

the next day with the money. Before I could do that, Pettiti had been arrested. He promised that if we met the demands he made the boy would be returned to us."

Woman Relates Phone Talk.

Mrs. Jennie Arguilla of 7313 Diversey boulevard was brought in for questioning and she identified Pettiti as a man who had come to her home to use the telephone. She said she heard him call a number and demand that $5,000 be brought to him.

Dr. Vito Taglia and his brother, Pompei Taglia, of 919 South Halsted street, were questioned by F. O. Scott

Mueller on a charge by Attilio Scialiti, a godfather to one of the Ranieri children. Scialiti said the Taglias offered to give aid in negotiating with the kidnapers. The Taglias said they had thought they might help by making inquiry among their acquaintances, and both were then released.

Police last night continued to seek for the farmhouse in which the Ranieri boy was held prisoner. Lieut. John Ryan and a squad searched a place on the Dundee road near Elgin.

TRACES CRIME ALLIANCE

The "family tree" of politics and crime in Chicago, showing the results of the alliance, was compiled in a formal last night by Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime Commission.

After giving the highest praise to the order to the police from Judge Frank Comerford, calling for the annihilation of the Mafia, Mr. Loesch said the Sicilian band of outlaws is a significant branch in the "family tree," and he traced the wedding of crime and politics, and discussed the offspring of that union.

From Thompson and Crowe to Lombardo and Capone and vice and gambling is not such a far cry, Mr. Loesch said in revealing the results of an investigation by the crime commission.

"Judge Comerford has acted on a conviction that has been steadily growing among the people: that law enforcement has broken down completely when it comes to the arrest, prosecution and attempt to convict such gang murderers as the Mafia gunmen," Mr. Loesch said.

"We cannot have law and order for 99 per cent of the people and anarchy for 1 per cent when the anarchy is destructive of our peace, our security, our safety."

Thompson and Crowe.

"For instance, Robert E. Crowe and William Hale Thompson stand at the head of the political faction which has come to be known as the 'breathe' of crime. Put them at the top of our 'family tree.' There is Crowe, in complete control of all law enforcement machinery in Cook county, ruling the sheriff, the coroner, and the county police. And there is Thompson, bossing the police, wielding all the city's political patronage, influencing many of the judges through the election of members of his faction to the bench."

"All three of the special juries have condemned the inefficiency of the police and their almost patent alliance with the criminals."

"Then comes the stepchild, Homer Galpin, pseudo boss of the Republican county committee, keeping the political lines intact and watching the purse strings, accepting large campaign funds from gangsters. Galpin, in effect, a fugitive from the process of the courts, is hiding himself behind trees in the north woods of Wisconsin. He refuses to testify before the special grand jury, as to his alliances with the criminal elements."

Capone and Lombardo.

"And who are the gangsters seemingly tied up to this 'family tree'? Scarface Al Capone, vice, gambling and liquor king, and the recently murdered Tony Lombardo. Lombardo is dead, but his organization—the Mafia—the kidnapers of little Billy Ranieri—is still organized and ready to function uninterrupted."

"Lombardo was actual master of the Unione Siciliano, which has now become the Italian American Union, and is headed by Bernard P. Barone. The latter, a former judge of the Municipal court, intimate of Mayor Thompson, is reputed a leader among the Italians.

"All the kidnappings, blackmail, the terrorism, murders, and countless other crimes, committed in the name of the dread Mafia, spring from the minds of Lombardo and the men who now are fighting to take the place vacated by his murder."

Find King's Funds in Politics.

"It was Lombardo who ruled the alcohol cookers. They bought their sugar from him or they died. The people paid him tribute on their cheese and their olive oil."

"And part of these spoils, the extortions from the fathers of kidnaped children, the profits of the alcohol sales, we hear went into the political coffers of Galpin and Thompson and Crowe."

"Capone, the partner of Lombardo, ruled in other ways. Through him the family tree spreads to take in the names of Jack Gusick and Ralph Capone."

"Gusick runs the brothels and takes his regular tribute for his leadership in the 'breathe' rule over dog races and gambling—crooked gambling and crooked racing. Ralph Capone takes to moonshining and bootlegging."

"Mafia Must Be Suppressed."

"Have not the facts brought out justification of the statement that this family tree exists and is one of crime and corrupt politics?"

"The Mafia must be suppressed here as it was by Mussolini in Italy. The upper hand which the criminals are obtaining in this city by their alliances with politicians, not only gives the city a bad reputation, but it will certainly end in anarchy if permitted to go a few years longer."

"Good evidence of that is the condition of the public mind in the last few days owing to the kidnapping of Billy Ranieri and the terror which that outrage brought to every parent of substantial means in the city of Chicago."

"Crowe has failed almost completely in the duty which the law places upon him, and that I believe is due largely to his alliances with the criminal element."

DAKE LEADS 17 FLYERS IN RACE TO CINCINNATI

Lands First at El Paso; Fog Hinders Contest.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Robert Dake of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Theo Toney, flying an American moth, led the class A racers of the Los Angeles-Cincinnati flight into El Paso today, landing at the municipal field at 6:25 p. m.

W. H. Emery Jr., Bradford, Pa., was second to land, arriving at 6:42:15 p. m. George Hopkins was third, landing at 6:45:35 p. m., and T. W. Kenyon of Boston followed at 6:58:30. Dake said he was advised that most of the 17 planes that started the race would remain overnight in Tucson, because of the delay in the hopoff at Los Angeles due to fog.

Start Race in Fog. Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Seventeen aviators, seeking shares in a $20,000 pot of gold, today thundered away from Mines field here and swept over the airways towards El Paso, Tex., en route to Cincinnati. Starting at 10 a. m. with visibility poor and none too optimistic reports of weather conditions ahead, the flyers in the class A race to the Ohio city disappeared in a gray haze. Fog banks were reported over the mountains ahead of the flyers, but hopes were expressed that the mist would be dispelled before higher altitudes were reached in Arizona.

CONGRESS SHOULD BACK 1933 FAIR, DAWES DECLARES

Congress should support Chicago's world's fair in 1933 because of its national and international scope, President Rufus C. Dawes of the centennial committee declared last night before 100 representatives of Chicago's national groups. They met to hear him in the rooms of the Chicago Bar association in the Burnham building, La Salle and Randolph streets.

Seventy-five per cent of Chicago's citizens have been born abroad or are the children of foreign born parents, Mr. Dawes stated. It is this condition, he said, that makes it fitting for this city's centennial celebration to take the form of a world's fair.

Chauncey McCormick, a member of the world's fair trustees, spoke briefly, Felix Streychnans, chairman of the national groups, reported progress in the enrollment campaign among the various races.

CUSTOMS HOLD COSTLY JEWELS OF MME. WALSKA

New York, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The $5,500,000 in jewels, lingerie, and other personal belongings of Mme. Ganna Walska, wife of Harold F. McCormick, Chicago harvester millionaire, were ordered "detained" at the appraiser's stores today by customs officials.

Mme. Walska, who arrived Tuesday on the liner Paris, contends she does not have to pay the 50 per cent duty on imported jewelry and the 60 to 70 per cent on wearing apparel because she is not a resident of the United States.

"My home is in Paris," she said. Philip Elting, port collector, held that, as the singer is the wife of the Chicagoan, her official residence therefore is in the United States.

Attorneys Granted Time

Henry D. Buckley of the law firm of Bouvier, Caffey & Beale represented Mme. Walska today in a lengthy conference with Mr. Elting and Henry Stuart, his assistant. It was agreed that Mme. Walska's attorneys would have several days' time in which to present proof she is a resident of Paris.

Meanwhile all of Mme. Walska's evening clothes, wraps, jewelry and linens are being held by the customs. She was at the Fifth avenue home of her husband today.

"We have similar cases on record," said Mr. Elting, "in which women living abroad and having husbands residents in the United States have been unsuccessful in claiming foreign residence."

Cites Mrs. Bachs Case. Mr. Stuart then cited the case of Mrs. Jules S. Bachs, wife of the banker. In October, 1913, the United States Court of Customs Appeals upheld a ruling that Mrs. Bachs must pay duty on articles brought from

COST OF AIRPORT ON LAKE IS SET AT $12,000,000

Sum Necessary to Build Island Estimated.

A bond issue of approximately $12,000,000 will be required for the construction and equipment of an adequate lake front airport, according to figures compiled yesterday by Assistant Corporation Counsel Roy N. Leach, who is handling the matter for the city. Heretofore, a $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 issue had been considered. Mr. Leach received from the city engineers' office the first specific estimates on the field, which it is proposed to build off the lake shore between 17th and 23d streets.

Plan 300 Acre Island.
To fill in an island 4,000 by 4,500 feet, comprising 300 acres, would cost $12,000,000, it is estimated, with an additional $2,425,000 for top soil, a breakwater and spillway. About $200,000 more would be needed for a seaplane base, tentatively located on the south side of the field, according to Mr. Leach's figures. This is a total of $12,055,000.

With several minor reservations, the ordinance providing for the airport was approved Tuesday by the south park board and it probably will be submitted to the city council next Wednesday. Mr. Leach said he saw no important objections to the park board's recommendations, which concerned the location of traffic and the types of buildings to go on the field.

Few Buildings Contemplated.
"There will be few if any buildings," he explained. "All of the hangars and repair shops will be at the municipal airport at 63d street and Chicago avenue. It will be only a six minute flight between the two fields, so the new one will be used as a station and the old one as a freight depot and shops."

Whether the proposed bond issue will be placed on the ballot in November appeared yesterday to be problematical. Although the city administration and council are anxious to put it at the top of the list, some feel that the plans, both financial and technical, are too incomplete to be sound.

May Postpone Vote.
The mayor's aero commission yesterday adopted a resolution formally asking that the bond issue be postponed until next spring. Instead, the commission recommended an issue of $10,000,000 to improve the municipal field should be put on the November ballot.

Michael J. Faberty, head of the board of local improvements, who is asking for submission of bond issues of $45,919,231 for street projects in November, asked representatives of city and downtown business groups for their support at a conference yesterday. It was agreed that he should submit his recommendations to the

Tries to Land Plane in Stiff Wind; Pilot Killed

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 20.—(U. P.)—Ernest A. Purdy of Tulsa, Okla., was killed tonight when his plane crashed while he was trying to land in a stiff wind. Emmett Mossman of Albuquerque was with him and suffered injuries from which he is expected to die.

'WINDMILL PLANE' CRASHES MAKING 'SPOT' LANDING

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Sept. 20.—The autogyro plane, known as the "Windmill," which crossed the English channel in twenty minutes two days ago and which had made a dozen successful flights in France, crashed this afternoon at Le Bourget airdrome. Juan de la Cierva, the Spanish inventor, and Frantz Reichel, president of the International Sporting Press association, escaped with minor injuries. The plane was damaged beyond repair, the windmill apparatus being destroyed and the fuselage badly smashed.

The weird machine, whose bid for fame was its ability to rise and descend vertically, was attempting to land when it suddenly crashed to the ground and overturned. One of the blades of the overhead fan snapped when the plane was about 200 feet in the air and the other three blades were broken.

Señor de la Cierva claims the accident was due to "abnormal" causes, stating that a cable snapped, allowing the windmill lifting apparatus to collapse.

WARRANTS OUT FOR 37 AFTER MCHENRY BOMB

Gangsters Attack Jail in Midst of Rum Quiz.

Warrants were issued late yesterday for 37 McHenry county gangsters, keepers and other traffickers in beer and alcohol, and throughout the afternoon and evening special deputy sheriffs were taking those wanted to the county jail at Wood Dale.

The arrests followed the bombing of the home of Cole Peterson of Wood Dale, leader of a citizens' committee which is supporting the cleanup of beer and gambling in the county, and the attempt by gangsters to bat down the doors of the city jail at Harvard.

County Judge Charles Allen, who is issued the warrants on information filed by Charles W. Hadley of Wheat Ridge, special prosecutor before a special grand jury, released those of the 37 who were arrested who could give bonds of $2,000 to $5,000.

Bomb Damages Residence.
Mr. Peterson's home was bombed late Wednesday night. The blast blew most of the front of the residence and broke windows for several blocks around. Peterson and his family were in the rear of the house and escaped injury.

The attack on the jail at Harvard came some hours later in the darkness of early morning. Three large automobiles and a truck were driven suddenly up to the jail and a group of men leaped out. They had with them an improvised battering ram and with this they attacked the door. A frightened prisoner shouted loudly and awakened policemen, who drove the gangsters away.

The attempt to break into the jail was believed to have been inspired by the gangsters' knowledge that a score or more of slot machines, seized in the home of George Vogel, had been placed in a cell there.

Citizens Start Investigation.
The clash of authorities and citizens with the gangsters and roadhouse operators came after several months' investigation by a private detective from Chicago, who was aided by prohibition agents. The inquiry was instigated by the citizens' committee, and for the last two weeks Peterson and other members of that committee, sworn in by a justice of the peace and armed with search warrants, have been busy raiding.

Beer and alcohol were found in large quantities, and slot machines seized in numerous places. Some city resorts and roadhouses run openly with beer and gambling in the county, it was charged, and on these newly deputized men descended with a band of vigilantes.

As a result of the raids suits for $2,000 damages were filed by Charles and George Vogel, roadhouse proprietors, and by Henry Schmitt, one of the owners of Bubbling Over, a resort said to be the headquarters for "Johnny" Grome, a well known beer merchant.

Leaders in Raids Sued.
The damage suits were directed against Peterson, James McElroy, Donald Curtis, L. R. Trolke, R. H. Wilson and W. F. Stevens.
Trouble between the citizens' committee and the forces for liquor and beer in the county dates back more than a year. At that time the Chicago detective and government men obtained information on which a number of federal indictments against men in the county, including Grome, were filed. About the same time State's Attorney Alfred H. Pouse disappeared the face of graft charges.

A special grand jury has been impaneled and will start hearing evidence Monday.

Citizens Act to Put 10,000 Watchers at November Polls

A movement to enlist 10,000 poll watchers for the November election gained headway at a meeting yesterday in the Chicago Bar association's assembly rooms attended by representatives of twenty-two civic organizations. This is more than ten times as many nonpartisan ballot guards as have heretofore been employed at one time.

The American Legion and Chicago's law colleges are to be solicited for volunteers, the tentative plan provides. Special State's Attorney Charles Carter Case told the meeting that the cause is the worthy one of upholding the right over the might of the crime-politics alliance.

Plan School for Watchers.
The group of civic club representatives decided to urge law colleges to give students scholastic credit for watching the polls. The experience would be an education in practical politics and good civic training, it was pointed out. Mr. Case volunteered to conduct preliminary classes for the ballot guards.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarczyk addressed the meeting, quoting "the price of liberty is eternal vigilance." "Our government is based on the

IOWA FARMERS BOO BROOKHART; SHOUT FOR SMITH
Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Delegates to the Iowa Farmers' union convention this afternoon adopted resolutions urging President-elect Gov. Al Smith for President and condemning Herbert Hoover.

When the resolution had been adopted unanimously the delegates rose to their feet and sang "The Side-walks of New York."
The demonstration came at the completion of an hour and a half address by Senator Smith W. Brookhart, in which he had outlined his reasons for supporting Hoover in the present campaign. Brookhart had been challenged by the president of the union, Milo Reno, to justify his action in supporting the Republican nominee.

When the convention spurned his explanation and rose to its feet to sing the battle hymn of the Democrats, Brookhart left the hall.

VICTIM SHOT 11 TIMES ON DRIVE IDENTIFIES SELF

A man shot eleven times early Tuesday and found on the outer drive in Grant park by Probate Judge Henry Horner identified himself last night as David Saunders, 383 St. Clair street, Toronto, when questioned at the Bridewell hospital by Lieut. John Norton. His mother, Mrs. Sarah Saunders, lives at 629 Dupont street, Toronto, the wounded man said.

Police removed him to the Bridewell hospital from St. Luke's after W. P. Schilling identified Saunders as the man who shot and killed his brother, Paul Schilling, 4833 Kestmore avenue, and Miss Ruth Ward, in the girl's apartment at 936 Leland avenue, on June 4. Saunders has refused to say who shot him, but has denied that his assailants sought revenge for the killing of Schilling and Miss Ward.

FRAUD JURY MAY WIDEN SCOPE OF CITY HALL QUIZ

Secret Session with Judge
Forecasts Action.

Possibility of widening the scope of the investigation of the special grand jury under the leadership of Charles H. McLean, real estate dealer, was forecast yesterday after a secret session of the jurors with Chief Justice John J. Egan, solicited by the foreman of the jury, and at which the special prosecutor was excluded, the jury asked for enlightenment on the original instructions issued to them by the judge, particularly as to their individual power of issuing subpoenas.

Foreman Edol refused to discuss the possibility of certain city hall politicians being called before the jury, although it was generally admitted that the jurors asked how far they could go on the question of issuing subpoenas on their own motion.

Any Friction on Jury.
Rumors that friction had developed among the jurors were denied, although it was learned that one juror, and only one, seemed particularly interested in cross-examining prosecution witnesses.

A set field of investigation will be opened up at the session this afternoon when the jury will attempt to find out who paroled out the slot machine privileges in the south side district. That connection the operation of slot machines and other gambling devices had with the campaign fund used in an attempt to elect the Thompson-Crowe-Galpin America First ticket at the last primary is the question the Assistant Prosecutor William Hines and Sheridan Bruseaux, chief investigator, will attempt to answer.

Pick Jurors for Trial.
While the grand jury was continuing the investigation of alleged pay roll padding in the office of Corporation Counsel Samuel Ettelson, the trial of seventeen henchmen of Morris Eller, city collector, and his son, Judge Samuel Eller of the Superior court, was actually started before Judge John M. O'Connor of the Appellate court, who was called especially to reside at the trial.

The jurors, after themselves selecting Judge O'Connor, took a last minute change of venue from his court, the reason the benchmen were used on trial without the benches. The men cannot now be tried for several weeks, it was said by Special Assistant Prosecutors Edwin J. Haber and David Stansbury. The trial judge of the Eller will be selected later, it was announced by Chief Justice Sullivan.

May Get Jury Quickly.
The task of selecting the jury for the trial of the Eller side will not be along as was first expected, it was picked after the first day of the daily tedious task had been completed.

Judge O'Connor started the session with a speech to the veniremen telling them that it was not the act of citizenship to dodge jury service.

Service on a jury in the courts of the country is one of the highest honors you can render as good citizens," he said.

It was surprising how few jurors on the first day of the trial said they had fixed opinions—the excuse most generally used to dodge service. Most of the men admitted reading extensively of the Eller and discussing the affair, but said they could put up opinions and decide the issues on the evidence.

The most bitter fight of the day was when the prosecution asked that there any panel of four jurors is supposed that they be given 24 hours to investigate the qualifications of the men. Attorneys Ben Short and Thomas Cash for the defense fought this move, saying that the men should be sworn in immediately and not subjected to investigation. The judge took the question under advisement and will be can study up the law.

The Eller practically deserted their case yesterday. Morris Eller was in court until the formal entry of his change of venue order and then left for the day. Judge Eller did not appear at all.

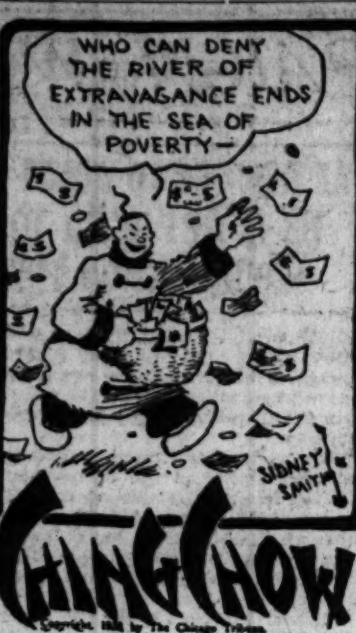

The state twice during the day.

BUSINESS NEEDS MORE BUREAUS, SPEAKER SAYS

Henry R. Hayes, president of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, spoke at yesterday's session of the better business commission and said the establishment of better business bureaus is essential to protect the buying power of the communities.

Mr. Hayes insisted that his statement that there are more capitalists than families in the country was conservative.

Recognized authorities, he said, placed the number of individual and institutional stockholders in the United States at 15,000,000.

DEFENDS RECORD, CHALLENGES Foe IN OKLAHOMA CITY

Blames G. O. P. for Not Silencing Willebrandt.

vinced that my election will promote the best interests of our country."

Smith means, as I was saying, chapter and verse, location and date, name and sex.

In one appalling passage he means Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general of the United States. He quotes chapter and verse on her.

Assaults Mrs. Willebrandt.

With no morbid or restraining punctiliousness in the matter of civility to women, he roars that she "made an exhibition of herself" before the Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"She made an exhibition of herself," he continues, "when, before that conference, she spoke these words: 'There are 2,000 pastors here. You have in your church more than 600,000 members of the Methodist church in Ohio alone. That is enough to swing the election. The 600,000 have friends in other states. Write to them.'"

"This is an extract from a speech made by her in favor of a resolution offered to the effect that the conference go on record as being unalterably opposed to the election of Gov. Smith and to endorse the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, the Republican candidate."

When Smith comes on the stage at 9:30 p. m. [Chicago daylight saving time], more than 100,000 persons are massed around this hall on the remote outskirts of the city. A million of these are clearly following him through amplifiers.

Detectives Guard Him.

The nominee is wearing a black sack suit, the waistcoat of which he has discarded owing to the hot weather. He is introduced by the Presbyterian, Lee Cruce, second governor of this new commonwealth.

The meeting is very demonstrative, very turbulent, in the release of its enthusiasm, but it is not disorderly. The Rev. John Roach Straton, Baptist preacher of New York City, who called Smith "the best addition to the religious issue, which is the foremost issue down here with prohibition next, there are desperate factional fights in the state Democratic."

Three quatrains are so bitter that Smith and his wife rode alone in the automobile which carried them through the streets from their train to the hotel this evening. The Smith partisans would not agree that Gov. Johnston of Oklahoma should ride with the nominee. Johnston wished to ride with the Smith partisans said "that is too much honor for a public official against whom we shall bring articles of impeachment next winter."

TEXT OF SMITH SPEECH

The text of Gov. Smith's speech as given out by his headquarters here follows:

"Our country has achieved its great growth and become a model for the nations of the world under a system of party government. It would be difficult to predict what might be the evil consequences if that system were changed. If it is to survive, campaigns for the presidency must be fought out on issues really affecting the welfare and well-being and future growth of the country. In a presidential campaign there should be but two considerations before the electorate: The platform of the party, and the ability of the candidate to make it effective."

"In this campaign an effort has been made to distract the attention of the electorate from these two considerations and to fasten it on malicious and un-American propaganda."

"I shall tonight discuss and denounce that wicked attempt. I shall speak openly on the things about which people have been whispering to you."

Challenges Truth of Charges.

"A former senator from your own state, a member of my own party, has deserted the party which honored him, upon the pretense, as he states it, that because I am a member of Tammany Hall I am not entitled to your support for the high office to which I have been nominated. Here tonight I challenge both the truth and the sincerity of that pretense. I brand it as false in fact. I denounce it as a subterfuge to cover treason to the fundamental principles of democracy and of American liberty."

"What Mr. Owen personally thinks is of no account in this campaign. His lies, however, raised an issue with respect to my record with which I am justly proud and I need no defense. It is one upon which I am justified in asking your support. For the present, let us examine the record upon which has been raised the light and pitiless publicity for a quarter of a century. I am willing to submit it to you and to the people of this country with complete confidence."

Began Career 25 Years Ago.

"Twenty-five years ago I began my active public career. I was then elected to the assembly, representing the district in New York City, where I was born, where my wife was born, where my five children were born and where my father and mother were born. I represented that district continuously for twelve years, until 1915, when I was elected sheriff of New York county."

"Two years later I was elected to the position of president of the board of aldermen, which is really that of vice mayor of the City of New York. In 1918 I was selected by the delegates to the state convention as the candidate of the Democratic party for governor, and was elected."

"Running for reelection in 1920, I was defeated in the Harding landslide. However, while Mr. Harding carried the state of New York by more than 1,100,000 plurality, I was defeated only by some 70,000 votes."

Returns to Private Life.

"After this defeat I returned to private life, keeping up my interest in public affairs, and accepted appointment to an important state body at the hands of the man who had defeated me."

"In 1922 the Democratic convention by unanimous vote renominated me for the third time for governor. I was elected by the record plurality of 337,000. And this in a state which had been normally Republican."

"In 1924, at the earnest solicitation of the Democratic presidential candidate, I accepted renomination. The state of New York was carried by President Coolidge by close to 200,000 plurality, but I was elected governor."

Unanimously Renominated.

"Renominated by the unanimous vote of the convention of 1926, I made my fifth state-wide run for the governorship and was again elected the fourth term, the longest tenure of any governor in the history of the state."

"The record of accomplishment under my four administrations recommended me to the Democratic party in the nation, and I was nominated for the presidency at the Houston convention on the first ballot."

"To put the picture before you completely, it is necessary for me to refer briefly to this record of accomplishment."

"The face of bitter Republican opposition, I succeeded in bringing about a reorganization of the government of the state of New York, consolidating eighty or more scattered boards, bureaus and departments into nineteen major departments, and bringing about efficiency, economy, and a thoroughgoing coordination of all state activities."

"Under it was set up for the first time the cabinet of the governor."

"A drastic reform was secured in the manner and method of appropriation of the public money, commended me to the Democratic party in the nation, and I was nominated for the presidency at the Houston convention on the first ballot."

START DIGGING OF NEW CHANNEL TO UNKINK RIVER

Project to Open New Routes to Loop.

Actual digging of the new channel of the Chicago river which will straighten the stream between Taylor and 14th streets, clearing the way for street, right, and railway terminal development, formally got under way yesterday with an all-afternoon celebration.

Before 300 spectators who lined the river bank at the Taylor street bridge, Commissioner of Public Works Richard W. Wells, pulled the lever of a huge digger, lifting out the first spadeful of mud and rocks. Work will be completed in eight or nine months. After year will be required to straighten out the meandering stream in the area. The project will cost $2,000,000.

Ops Route to Loop.
The new southwest corner of the loop will be opened up by the improvement of La Salle, Wells and Franklin streets between Taylor and 14th streets. A new $150,000,000 terminal for the railroads will be used in the La Salle and Grand Canal stations.

The city administration and the Great Lakes and Dock company announced that the channel job, made the set of the opportunity for a big public demonstration to mark the start of the work. A parade of floats, bands with flags flying and whistles ringing preceded the ceremonies at Taylor street. From a bunting-laden platform on the bridge addresses were made by Mr. Wells, Mr. Thompson, and Ald. E. J. Kane, chairman of the council railway terminal committee. The dredging ceremony followed.

ACTO PLUNGES TO EATH FROM TOP BUILDING

A man, coupled with his inability to obtain employment, is believed by police to have been responsible for the suicide yesterday of Anthony Perin, actor, who until recently was inmate of the state asylum at Joliet. Perin plunged from an eighth floor window of the Baltimore hotel, 22 West Quincy street, to concrete courtyard below. A few minutes before he leaped Perin was in a nervous mood, back and forth in the building corridor. He had just to the offices of Ed Weissen, theatrical agent, presumably to seek employment. Not finding Weissen in, Perin stepped into the world and a few moments later was seen building saw his body hitting the air.

A sheet that Perin fell from the building accident was not considered by police because of an iron bar which doctor had to shove aside before he could reach the body.

ENGINEER FROWNS ON MISSISSIPPI DEPTH OF 9 FT. AND DRAWS FIRE

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Numerous letters protesting the action of the district engineer at Rock Island, Ill., in disapproving a project for a nine foot channel in the upper Mississippi river have reached the war department. Most of the letters have urged Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of engineers, to order a hearing at which shipping interests would have an opportunity to present their arguments in favor of the channel.

The report made by Maj. Charles L. Hall, the district engineer, was made in response to legislation calling for a survey of the Mississippi river between the Missouri river and Minneapolis with a view of obtaining a channel depth of nine feet at low water.

Maj. Hall's report affects, however, only that section of the Mississippi river above the mouth of the Illinois river. Legislation now pending in congress provides for the deepening of the Mississippi river as far up as the mouth of the Illinois. The war department recommended the nine foot channel in this section to make possible a nine foot channel from the great lakes to the Gulf.

The Hall report dealt principally with the economic phase of the deepening of the present channel of the upper Mississippi from its present six foot channel.

Officials of the Mississippi Valley association are active in working for a hearing at which shippers would be heard. St. Paul and Minneapolis interests also are protesting against the report.

CAB DRIVERS IN FIGHT.

U. S. TO DESTROY APPLES; ARSENIC FOUND IN THEM

Thirty tons of dried apples, confiscated by the government under the pure food and drug act because of the presence of arsenic, will be burned in the incinerator of the Bridewell today by U. S. Marshal Henry C. W. Lauenheimer. The apples, shipped here by a cooperative group, were ordered destroyed by the federal court after a suit for libel and forfeiture was instituted by Miss Mary D. Bailey, assistant district attorney.

MAYOR, ETTELSON ASKED TO RESIGN BY N. W. SIDERS

Indignation Over Feeder
Busses Mounts.

fund for purchase of busses and to authorize surface lines to operate said feeder busses," the telegram stated. "My motion was not seconded and on the action finally taken by the commission one other commissioner passed his vote, while I voted against the order as adopted. I did this in the belief that feeder busses operated by the traction company might forestall a double fare for downtown riders from the northwest side and in the belief that I should follow this viewpoint until the courts rule otherwise."

CITY MAY BUY BUSES

By OSCAR BEWITT.
Waukegan, Wis., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—A call for a special session next Tuesday forenoon of the city council to provide feeder busses for various parts of Chicago, was decided upon today by the aldermanic subcommittee drafting a transit ordinance here.

Previous to the council session, Chairman McDonough announced he will have a meeting of the committee on local transportation on Monday or Tuesday morning to consider the purchase of feeder busses by the city itself, out of its $55,000,000 traction fund.

These busses, if acquired, are to be leased to the surface lines for operation in connection with street cars at a seven cent fare and free universal transfers.

The reason for these meetings was probably best worded by Alderman

Ryan in his statement to his colleagues, as follows: "We must have the public approval of our ordinance. Why should the people vote for our ordinance on our statement that it will provide an enormous amount of good transportation, when we do not now give them the feeder bus transportation to which they are entitled and which we can supply. Failure to act now will destroy confidence in us and our ordinance, regardless of how good it is when finished. If we want our transit scheme approved, we must do something now. The Illinois commerce commission has announced that it will decide that the surface lines cannot provide feeder busses. It has not decided that the city cannot buy feeder busses."

"Have we the legal right to buy feeder busses, lease them to the surface lines, and collect a compensation for their use which will include depreciation?" asked Ald. McDonough of John G. Drennan, assistant corporation counsel, advising the subcommittee.

Action Deemed Legal.
"As an off-hand opinion only, I will say that can be done," replied Mr. Drennan.

"Why not go to it?" urged Alderman Frankhauser.

Immediately thereafter the special council meeting was decided upon. It is for the purpose of providing or causing to be provided feeder bus service for study sections of Chicago and to consider any other matter relating to the motor vehicle use of the streets.

That was deemed sufficiently broad to permit either purchase of feeder busses by the city or by the surface lines or both. And the present arrangement is to have the city council adopt both plans.

Will Prepare Ordinance.
At the committee session next week it is planned to have an ordinance prepared, providing for the purchase by the city of feeder busses and the leasing of them.

At the meeting of the local transportation committee last Tuesday the fourteen feeder bus ordinances were recommended for repassage. These measures provide that the surface lines shall provide the bus service, and are the ordinances which Mayor Thompson vetted Sept. 12. It is planned that these ordinances also be placed before the special meeting of the city council next Tuesday.

The subcommittee's consideration of its transit plan here has not yet brought forth a decision on any contested point. The committee is not ready to declare what the capitalization of the merged surface and elevated lines shall be. Figures varying from $248,000,000 to $258,000,000 have been suggested, but at the end of today's session it was tentatively agreed that a valuation figure will not be decided upon before next Tuesday.

But neither $248,000,000 nor $258,000,000 contemplates any capital valuation for the Chicago Motor Coach company. The feeling against this corporation on feeder busses is such that the aldermen are now inclined to disregard the motor coach company as a factor in Chicago transportation.

FREEPORT FIRE CAUSES $10,000 LOSS.
Freeport, Ill., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Fire destroyed a general store, warehouse and residence in the village of Cedarville last night, causing a loss of $10,000.

FOUR CONFESS 100 ROBBERIES - ON SOUTH SIDE

Four Negroes, all on parole from Pontiac reformatory, were held in the Wabash avenue police station last night after they had confessed the robbery of more than forty drug stores and at least sixty street holdups on the south side during the last year. They estimated their total loot at $5,000.

William Gant, 28 years old, 4442 Evans avenue, was the first of the four seized, and his arrest resulted in the capture of the others. Sergeant James Fitzgerald, at Gant's direction, placed members of his squad near a house at 4011 South Parkway. James Pennerman, 25 years old, and Warren Larrier, 27, were captured in the house and Perry Wallace, 32, was seized as he alighted from a taxicab.

As Far As Style Goes

When you remove the Price-tags, Trademarks, Hallmarks and Earmarks, they are "Style-Twins"—you can't tell them apart.

Some people think that if they pay more money, they get more style, but I'll challenge anyone to look at any crowd of well dressed men and tell what they paid for their hats.

My customers don't want a "$3.50 Style". They want a $10 Style for $3.50. That's why I'm reproducing high price styles for $3.50.

As Far As Quality Goes

I've got more than a million satisfied customers and I know I can satisfy you.

As a matter of fact, I don't believe anybody has any trouble about the wear of a good hat. The trouble is, it isn't half worn out when it isn't fit to wear.

The worst looking hats you see on the street at the beginning of the season are last year's high price hats that the owners are trying to "wear out" their money's worth.

$100,000 PL TO BLACKN RASKOB FO

Writer of Death
Letters Trapped

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—A well dressed man, who said he was Frank C. Raskob, called on the Police court today and advised that he had written a letter threatening the life of the chairman of the Democratic National committee, unless he was elected.

Magistrate Pennock held the man on charges of blackmail and extortion. The letter, which was written by Raskob, warned the chairman of the committee that he would succeed to his demands for home at Claymont, Del., unless the chairman of the committee had a narrow margin of victory in the election. One of the most prominent Democrats had a narrow margin of victory in the election. The letter, which was written by Raskob, warned the chairman of the committee that he would succeed to his demands for home at Claymont, Del., unless the chairman of the committee had a narrow margin of victory in the election.

The letter referred to the fact that Raskob, 19 year old son of the late Raskob, who lost his life in an auto accident near Centerville, Md., had been in the city for some time. The letter implied that the chairman of the committee might have been in the city for some time. The letter implied that the chairman of the committee might have been in the city for some time.

All the letters were signed "Frank C. Raskob". The letter was caught after being sent from the city. The letter was caught after being sent from the city.

Text of First Three.
The first letter, received by the secretary about two days ago, was undated and read as follows: "Dear Madam: I have decided to do this, my circle of so desperate a nature have decided to cast all the winds and to risk all of appeal to the god of chance. I am making a demand of $100,000. Pay this to me in cash, falling in which, the I will take will be the utility of your residence at Claymont. I stirred the pulse of the other day in New York did not try to make any fact from the fall of the election the next time fortune will find him."

Directs How to Proceed.
"But you have nothing to do but comply with my demand. Immediate reply in the person of the Philadelphia Evening Ledger simply 'I comply.' will bring a second letter from me. If this letter is ignored, matter becomes public, or if the letter is taken into consideration, I would suggest that you vacate at once, to avoid to injure them."

THE TEN CENT FARE CANDIDATES.

The decision of the Illinois commerce commission in knocking out the feeder bus proposal, whereby the isolated sections of the northwest side would have been furnished immediate, adequate transportation with bus-street car transfer privileges, was obviously dictated by Mayor Thompson. Having vetoed the feeder bus ordinance of the city council, thus opening the streets to the Chicago Motor Coach company on a straight ten cent fare basis, Mr. Thompson superintended the election of the feeder bus proposal by his ally, Len Small's commerce commission.

Certain of Ten Cent Fare Thompson's political protégés survived the April primary day uprising and will appear on the November ballot for election. They have been without a campaign slogan since America First lost its vote getting efficacy. Now Mr. Thompson has supplied them with an issue of undoubted interest to the electorate. They are hereafter to be distinguished as the Ten Cent Fare candidates. These, then, are the Ten Cent Fare candidates:

John W. [Ten Cent Fare] Jaranowski, Republican candidate for county recorder.

Oscar [Ten Cent Fare] Wolf, Republican candidate for county coroner.

Oscar [Ten Cent Fare] Nelson, Edward F. [Ten Cent Fare] Moore, and Morris [Ten Cent Fare] Eller, all Republican candidates for the sanitary district.

Eugene L. [Ten Cent Fare] Nussner, Republican candidate for the board of assessors.

RAILROAD HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

Federal mediators, attempting to bring about an understanding between the western railroads and the spokesmen for 70,000 trainmen and conductors, have confessed failure. They have referred the question to the President.

The trainmen and conductors have asked for a wage increase of from 10 to 15 per cent. The managers of the railroads have offered an increase of 7 1/2 per cent, provided the unions accept a modification of working rules which would permit more economical operation of trains. This offer has been refused by the unions, which have declined to consider any modification in rules. A vote has been taken by the unions, the result of which has not been announced, but which, in all probability, is favorable to a strike.

The situation today bears a striking resemblance to that prevailing in 1916. After negotiations between the railroad managements and the unions had reached a stalemate, the issue was placed directly before President Wilson. That was also a presidential year and the vote, it was evident, was going to be close. President Wilson was seeking reelection and he was hard pressed. A few hundreds of thousands of votes of railroad men could turn the scale. Whatever his motives may have been, he did not long hesitate to embrace the cause of the unions. It was through the personal appeal of President Wilson to congress that the principal demands of the unions were embodied in the Adamson act, which was passed just in time to avert the threatened strike.

Mr. Coolidge has been confronted with a situation which is strangely similar in its outlines. If he is not a candidate for reelection, it is none the less true that his administration and his party are asking for endorsement at the polls. It is at this moment that the railroad unions are appealing to him to settle their controversy with the companies.

FORGET-ME-NOT DAY.

You will be solicited next Saturday, Sept. 22, to contribute to the welfare of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. Your contribution will furnish comforts not included in the government's care. Your gift will be applied toward finding employment for battle-scarred men whose partial capacities handicap them in the full bodied demands of modern enterprise. You will aid the families who are compelled to share in the sacrifice of the disabled veterans.

Tag days have become extortionate, but Forget-Me-Not day is legitimate. It is the one occasion on which you are importuned to remember the sacrifice of the soldier; to consider his lot; to ease his existence. Without this organized appeal the routine of peace time endeavor would not be interrupted by a consciousness of the disabled veterans, now suffering obscurely in hospitals or working under odds.

Each year as the number of dependent veterans increases and as the feeling of responsibility to them on the part of employers and the community wanes, the problem of administering to the needs and welfare of the men and their families becomes correspondingly difficult. It is reported that there are 25,000 more cases of tuberculosis among the veterans than there were last year; that there has been a 15 per cent increase in cases of disabling nervous disorders; that, although the increase has not been estimated, there has been a distressingly large number of new cases of organic diseases, including diabetes and Bright's disease. At the same time, in Illinois alone, 2,453 veterans are reported out of work in the files of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. With these graphic figures in mind, it becomes the duty of every citizen to contribute to the Forget-Me-Not fund with a substantial donation. It is a real obligation, to be fulfilled generously and thoughtfully.

MR. GALPIN KEEPS TO THE WOODS.

The election is now less than seven weeks away. The Republican party in Cook county is facing one of the hardest struggles in its history. The entire Republican ticket is jeopardized by the fact that among the party's candidates are Ellier and his associates in the Thompson-Crowe machine who were not known under in the April primary along with the leaders of their faction. Ellier, his son, and many of his political associates have since been indicted and are awaiting trial. They are a dead weight to the Republican ticket. Every Republican with a shred of decency and independence will vote against the Thompson candidates.

This is the moment for bold leadership in the party, leadership which would frankly repudiate the undesirable candidates. The party today not only lacks bold leadership; it has no properly qualified leadership. The chairman of the Republican county committee, Homer Galpin, is at Eagle River, Wis., his summer home. The days are drawing in; the nights are growing cold; the leaves are falling, but Mr. Galpin remains in the seclusion of his summer home in the Wisconsin woods.

The only explanation of his continued absence from the city when his duty calls him home is the fact that the grand jury wishes to question him regarding the source of his campaign fund of last spring. The grand jury has heard rumors that he received much money from the underworld. Mr. Galpin, the chairman of the Republican party, has refused to return to the jurisdiction of the special grand jury, where a subpoena might be served upon him obliging him to tell the facts.

Mr. Galpin's continued absence aligns him beyond all question as the ally of those elements in Chicago's public life which have brought disgrace upon the city. There can be no doubt that he ought to be asked to resign. As long as he is even the nominal leader of his party in Cook county every candidate of the party from Mr. Hoover down must suffer.

GUARANTEEING OUR RENUNCIATION.

Although the terms of the Anglo-French agreement upon armament limitation have not been made public, enough has been permitted to transpire to indicate our interest in the arrangement. It seems to have been agreed, for example, that France would support Great Britain's proposal made at the late abortive Geneva conference to limit cruisers of the 10,000 ton class and let nature take its course as to smaller cruisers and submarines.

This plan automatically establishes the overwhelming preponderance of Great Britain in permissible surface ships for an indefinite period. It would limit the category of long range cruisers essential to us, owing to our lack of bases and our long communications, and bring Britain's large numbers of fast and moderately fast merchant ships into the naval scale. The merchant ship can mount 6 inch guns and Britain can cover the seas with them. We cannot, and if we could, since we lack bases, their value would be very little. The limitation on submarines would work special disadvantage to us also, because of our lack of bases.

There was much criticism in the British press over the failure of the Geneva conference, the government being charged with negligence in not preparing for the event. It seems to have been preparing since. We are glad to read that our own government is not enthusiastic over the Anglo-French arrangement or the prospect of meeting a voting combination in the next conference which would leave us the alternative of accepting another drastic reduction of our naval strength, both absolute and relative, or of assuming the responsibility of walking out. So far as we are concerned, we should not flinch from that responsibility, a plain duty to our country, but what a hullabaloo would be raised by the pacifist organizations and the political preachers and the vicious altruists of the press who are friends of every country save their own!

Meanwhile, it seems to us not unworthy the attention of normal Americans that while we have been signing up the powers to a pledge renouncing war, the two chief signatories have been busily arranging between them to put American sea power where they think it belongs. Perhaps they have some excuse for holding that as the leading renunciant we can hardly object to being put in a position in which our renunciation is guaranteed by our inability to make war, or as we pray: "Lead us not into temptation."

Editorial of the Day

IN THE DRY SOUTH.

[Port Wayne (Ind.) Journal-Gazette.]
News dispatches from Memphis relate a story told by a Negro pair, man and wife, to the federal prohibition authorities in the Tennessee city. They had made their escape from one of the numerous islands situated in the Mississippi river off the Tennessee shore, where they with 500 others of their race had been held in virtual slavery by a band of moonshiners and bootleggers. The fugitive Negroes detailed the manufacture and distribution of 10,000 gallons of contraband liquor each week, the brutal treatment to which all the Negroes on the island were subjected and the murder of at least four persons. The colored folks, it is said, are kept in a state of peonage on the island.

There is nothing novel or startling to find virtual peonage some of the states of the south. That has been uncovered heretofore in various parts. It must be that there is or at any rate was a good deal of that. The more interesting phase of the story told by the Negroes to the Memphis authorities relates, however, to the moonshining enterprise. The manufacture and distribution of something like ten thousand gallons of contraband liquor each week is a tolerable order for one lawless outfit and it denotes an extensive market. The southern states are dry. They are at present much agitated by some of the developments in national politics. Drydom is the essence of their political and spiritual credo. The two seem to go quite and inseparably together. One may judge by the frank and militant attitude of some of the church leaders in the south.

PYORRHEA AN OLD DISEASE.

D. R. H. L. MOODIE is of the opinion that pyorrhea is one of the oldest known diseases. He bases this opinion on the teeth and jaws of a wolf found in the asphalt pits on the Brea ranch at Los Angeles. The bones found in these pits have been there many thousands of years. They were there when saber tooth tigers, camels, and other animals now extinct in America roamed over the land. Probably in that period no human being had come to inhabit this continent.

Dr. Moodie has spent his adult life in studying just such problems as this one relating to diseases of the teeth, and several years have been devoted to these Brea animals. He found what he regarded as unmistakable evidence that this wolf had pyorrhea of the gums around the incisor teeth. Pyorrhea is a much older disease than decay of the teeth, as far as we can judge from the evidence. Dr. Moodie says: "I have examined hundreds of skulls and thousands of loose teeth, and not one example of dental caries have I found." He is writing about the animals found in the Brea pits.

This was an old wolf, or at least one of middle age. Though the teeth were badly worn down none of them showed decay. Dr. Moodie does not know what caused pyorrhea, but on the negative side, he feels certain it is not caused by infection. It seems probable that injury or trauma is the cause, since there must be some cause for this study teaches him that wild animals have almost no infections, nor any of the bacterial diseases which trouble animals in captivity. His opinion is based on the evidence that he has found in the study of among wild animals is due to violence, either one had hurt or a long series of minor ones.

RUNNING EAR.

J. W. writes: I am a young man, 22 years of age, and have been running since I was two years old. I am in perfect health otherwise.

1. Is it dangerous?
2. Is there any danger of my other ear running the affected ear?
3. Is there any danger of going deaf?
4. Can I run perfectly with my left ear and a little with my right?
5. Can it be cured without operation?
6. Is an operation dangerous?
7. What is a good ear wash?
8. Is an outdoor cold water shower, taken daily, injurious to the body?
9. I have been informed this is bad for the head.

REPLY.

1. There is very little danger to your life. 2. Running of the ears is seldom double-sided. 3. Yes. You are almost certain to be quite deaf if you do not use your right ear. 4. Some cases are cured by medical care; some require operation. 5. No. 6. Deakin's fluid, but the way of using it is more important than the choice of a wash. 7. No.

THIS ISN'T SUNBURN.

M. J. D. writes: My son, who has a very thin skin, got a third degree sunburn on his face and neck last Sunday. His nose has not healed.

REPLY.

If this has persisted for 18 months it is not a sunburn. Have his physician discover what it is.

BATHING IN EPSOM SALTS.

Mrs. J. M. F. writes: I was told that a safe way to reduce weight is to use epsom salts in the bath. However, I was told not to stay in this bath longer as it was hard on the heart and the nervous system. How about it?

REPLY.

Bathing in a solution of epsom salts is absolutely safe because it is absolutely ineffective. It would have just as much effect as bathing in ordinary water.

ANTICIPATES TROUBLE.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I intend to sell my property of seven room house and lot, also a vacant lot, to make a contract. In case the buyer cannot keep up the payments, but in the meantime he should make improvements on the house or build a garage on the vacant lot, must I pay the contractor or carpenter for such debts if he leaves them?

REPLY.

Could I insert in the deed "will not be responsible for debts of present owner?"

THE SIGN IS UP.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—[Friend of the People.]—Will you please help us to get a street sign erected at Barry avenue and Broadway? This is where there is a jog in the road and is confusing without a sign to direct strangers. E. J. H. Report is made by an evening edition that a street sign has been erected at the intersection of Barry avenue and Broadway as requested.

UNCERTAIN OF DIVORCE.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Four years ago I was granted a divorce from my husband and to date my lawyer has failed to file my divorce. I have written him repeatedly to attend to this, but to date he has failed to do so.

REPLY.

2. Is there any way that I can force him to do this without a lawsuit? Have I a case for damages against him?

REPLY.

My husband is married again. Is his marriage legal?

1. The facts are not entirely clear. If you mean that no divorce decree has been entered, then there is no divorce, and if your lawyer has no excuse, you might be able to collect damages.

REPLY.

2. It probably would be advisable to employ another attorney to investigate the facts and determine a course of action.

REPLY.

3. No, if no divorce decree was ever entered.

IT SEEMS THAT THE STENOGRAPHER WASN'T THERE.

Rhi: The great and burning question today is not political because the really great and burning question has to do with human impulses which without a doubt in my mind makes us go. Well, before we can get too far into this thing at the bottom of human impulses we gotta know of substance which is nothing less than a kind of sub-traction, that is taken things away until we come to the thing that makes us go. Now so far it is very simple to follow but as we all know things get more complex as we get on with them. Well one day a lady who peddles candy in the loop office building when folks are out to lunch walked in on a man sitting behind a mahogany desk and says, "I have some nice home made candy to sell—is the stenographer here?" "No, the stenographer is here," the stenographer is home made and—"The stenographer is not here," the stenographer is not here—"THE STENOGRAPHER IS NOT HERE!" So when the lady got to the door she says, "Well, then, maybe you'd buy a box for your wife?"

SMITH CAMPAIGN SPLITS 2 DIXIE SECTS WIDE OPEN

Methodists and Baptists Use Press, Pulpit.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Both the Methodist and Southern Baptist churches have been split wide open by the clerical campaign to defeat Gov. Smith because he is a wet and a Roman Catholic.

Hundreds of Methodist and Baptist ministers are preaching the defeat of Smith from their pulpits every Sunday and electing for Hoover on week days.

The organization of the anti-Smith Democrats in the south is being directed from a headquarters at Richmond, Va., where the Rev. James Cannon Jr., Methodist, and the Rev. Arthur James Barton, Baptist, both members of the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon league.

While leading their opposition chiefly on prohibition grounds, the Protestant clerics admit his religion is one of the counts in their indictment of Smith.

The Methodist publications generally and the Baptist, to some extent, are lending their columns to attacks on Smith because of his religion and to fomenting intolerance toward Catholics.

Conduct Whispering Campaign. Much space in those church weeklies is also devoted to criticism and defense of the political activity of the Protestant clergy in this election. The whispering campaign in the south is being carried on largely by the preachers and other Protestant church workers who are also circulating the Fellowship Forum and other scurrilous anti-Catholic broadsides.

Warren A. Candler of Atlanta, senior bishop of the Southern Methodist church, has denounced the political activities of Protestant clergymen, but to no avail. In one of his latest pronouncements he has announced his fear of the ultimate result of the politicalization of the Protestant church and characterizes its engagement in party politics as a "fatal blunder."

This utterance was called forth when some one dug up and printed a statement by Bishop Candler in 1916 in which he said: "The trouble with the Roman Catholic church is that it seeks to be both a church and a political party."

Bishop Explains Statement. This was quoted to show that Bishop Candler once held the views of the preachers who are now fighting the election of a President whose church "assumes political and civil authority."

Bishop Candler replied that the utterance was called forth by the incident of Theodore Roosevelt refusing an audience with the pope conditioned on his foregoing a reception by the king of Italy. "It expresses," added Bishop Candler, "exactly what I believe about the political character of the church of Rome, a vicious character, which I trust no Protestant church will ever assume."

"The politicalization of the church of Rome has brought to it immense and irreparable damage in Latin America and in all the world, even in Italy, and the politicalization of a Protestant church will insure it in the same way."

Fatal Blunder for Church. "I cannot approve the intrusion of any church, whether Protestant or Roman, into the arena of party politics. Such intrusion is a fatal blunder as well as an obvious violation of the truth uttered by our Lord when in the severe ordeal of his trial before Pontius Pilate he said with majestic calmness, 'My kingdom is not of this world.'"

The controversy began when on the eve of the Asheville conference of anti-Smith clergymen and professional dyes in July Bishop Candler made public a letter quoting numerous pronouncements of the Southern Methodist church against political activities on the part of preachers. The most notable was this from the address of the bishops Aug. 17, 1924: "Know your high calling, preach Christ and him crucified. Do not preach politics. You have no commission to preach politics. The divinity of the church is ever more strikingly displayed than when it holds on its ever straight forward way in the midst of worldly commotions."

Defend Hostility to Smith. Shortly thereafter Bishops Cannon, John W. Moore of Dallas, Tex.; Edward Monon of Charlotte, N. C.; and Horace M. Dubois of Nashville, Tenn., who were prominent in the Asheville conference, issued a defense in which they quoted numerous Episcopal pronouncements urging the "Christian citizenship of the nation" to defeat "candidates for congress" in the "primary and in the general election who will attempt to repeal or to weaken the Volstead act."

The four bishops pointed out that this and several other calls to political activity had been concurred in by Bishops Candler and Denny. They then quoted the following declaration by the general conference of 1924: "The law must be administered by its friends. In our states, from constable to governor, and in the nation, from revenue agent to President, officials must be selected who believe in enforcement not only because prohibition is the law, but because it ought to be the law."

Baptists Divided in Views. Dr. E. I. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, defended the political preachers, but the Rev. John D. Meil, president of the Georgia Baptist convention, admonished Georgia Baptist ministers to "keep out of politics," in a letter in which he said: "When you throw aside the wisdom of God and the power of God from your pulpits and hold upon your people instead the platform of any political party, or the name of any candidate for office, and expect by that to save men from the sin of intemperance, or any other sin, you will only become as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals."

Woman Rebukes Clerical Critics. Another controversy has been raging in the Baptist Religious Herald over a letter by Lucy Dickinson Urquhart, which is published. Mrs. Dickinson, who is a Baptist in good standing, wrote: "I have met a number of Baptists who oppose Gov. Smith's candidacy entirely because he is a Catholic. After ten years of Republican enforcement of prohibition, they know that any one who wants to drink can get liquor. Their opposition is not because of prohibition, but because they hate and fear Catholics."

U. S. to Extradite Auditor to Mexico in $65,000 Theft New York, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Robert O. Ratto, former auditor for the Pierce Oil company in Mexico City, has been ordered extradited to Mexico to stand trial on charges of embezzling $65,000, Assistant United States Attorney Swinerton announced tonight. Mr. Swinerton said the state department had notified him that a warrant would be issued for Ratto's removal. Ratto was arrested here last July by government agents on instructions from the Mexican embassy through the state department. He charged at that time that he was a victim of religious persecution.

BORAH NAMES RASKOB ON G. O. P. PROSPERITY LIST Cincinnati, O., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, is one of the best illustrations of Republican prosperity. Senator William E. Borah of Idaho declared today in Cincinnati.

The Idaho senator changed trains here en route from Detroit to Bowling Green, Ky. He spoke on behalf of the Republican campaign at Detroit last night and tonight at Bowling Green. Senator Borah ridiculed Gov. Smith's charge that Republican prosperity was a myth.

"Mr. Raskob is one of the best illustrations of Republican prosperity," Mr. Borah commented, smiling. "He has made two hundred million dollars under Republican rule. The train on which Gov. Smith is traveling through the west is no illustration of bad times. I am told it is the most luxurious train that ever pulled out of New York."

The Idaho senator asserted that Herbert Hoover's plan to relieve agriculture would, in effect, double the price that farmers receive for their products.

"From reading Gov. Smith's farm speech in Omaha," he said, "I take it that he is not committed to the principle of the McNary-Haugen bill. If he were he could have said it in one sentence."

MOTHER, 165 LB. BABY ARE DOING WELL, THANK YOU BERLIN, Sept. 20.—"Mother and 165 pound baby are doing well." This sign, hung outside the portals of Berlin zoo this morning, heralding a long awaited baby elephant. This is the first time in 22 years that the collection of elephants in the zoo has thus been increased. Neither mother nor baby was able to receive visitors today, doctors prescribing a complete rest. Breeding last year was particularly successful and among the births in captivity are ten cub lions.

Sleep Without Drugs Says Eminent Specialist

Former Battle Creek Sanitarium Physician States Amazing Flaxolyn Discovery Relieves Constipation Condition Naturally, Brings Sound, Restful Sleep by Perfecting Digestion. Specialist Gives Formula.

Thousands of people here who formerly suffered nights of sleeplessness and days of agonizing stomach distress due to constipation, now feel fit, eat with keen appetites and sleep serenely since taking Nature's own formula, Dr. Lunt's Herbal Flaxolyn.

According to the statement issued by Dr. A. W. Herr, formerly physician at the Battle Creek Sanitarium, "Flaxolyn relieves in a natural way that dreaded condition called constipation. In many cases where auto-intoxication prevented sleep the use of Flaxolyn has been the means of clearing the colon that natural sleep is now the usual thing and life has taken on a different meaning for these people."

Dr. George Starr White, prominent Los Angeles health writer and specialist, aroused kidney and stomach sufferers by taking an open stand in praise of Flaxolyn when he said last week, "I know of no remedy that can equal Flaxolyn as a corrective for chronic conditions of the bladder and kidneys—no more natural formula for combating 'self-poisoning' due to constipation."

Dr. Benedict Lust (M. D., D. N. D.), president of the American Naturopathic Association, says: "Flaxolyn is a natural food-laxative and priceless in all digestive ills."

That is the unique feature of Flaxolyn—it is a very remarkable Food-Laxative. Not a "Drug."

Dr. John Russell of Chicago, one of the foremost health food authorities of the country, also commends Flaxolyn.

BULLETIN.
HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 20.—
Under the influence of Hydrobromide, popularly known as "Truth Serum," Harry Jameson, admitted tonight that he killed his son, Frederick Jameson, the father.

Jameson, 10, was found dead three days after he was kidnapped from his home in Honolulu. The body was found in a canal adjoining the hotel district. The body was found by a group of members of the trust company, of which Jameson's father, Frederick Jameson, was president.

Jameson stated that young Jameson had been dead forty-eight hours.
The death was caused by asphyxiation. He evidently was killed after the kidnappers collected $4,000 ransom from his father.

BEGIN BASEBALL POOL INQUIRY AT ALBANY, N. Y.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20.—[Special.]
District Attorney Charles J. Herrick opened here today a grand jury investigation of the Albany baseball pool. He presented as the first witness Clarence A. Barnes of Boston, who attacked Gov. Smith for failure to suppress the operations of the lottery in the capital city.

Mr. Barnes, recently defeated for the attorney general nomination in Massachusetts, testified for one and a half hours and submitted several names and numerous documents to the grand jury.

He admitted before leaving for his home in Boston tonight that his evidence was in no way conclusive, but he asserted that it provided leads which could expose the lottery if the authorities developed them.

POINT WON BY CITY IN HEARING ON "L" FARES

Attorneys and officials of the elevated lines may have to produce a certified audit of their books so the Federal court may determine the true valuation of their properties, Master in Chancery Roswell B. Mason indicated yesterday. The ruling came at a session of the hearing through which the lines seek to obtain a permanent injunction to prevent the city and Illinois commerce commission from interfering with the 30 per cent increase in fares they have been collecting since July 17.

The master sustained an objection of Congressman Frank Reid, representing the city, when the attorneys for the "L" sought to get into the official court record a purported balance sheet showing the valuation of the company's properties to be $92,000,000. Reid based his objection on a contention that the company's books would show a different valuation than the purported balance sheet.

"I am sure the books themselves will show a value of $58,000,000 or $68,000,000 instead of $92,000,000," the congressman said.

Master Mason said he might later allow the sheet to go into the record
if it was established a true recapitulation of the company's value and condition. The hearing is to be resumed this morning.

G. O. P. WAR VETS OPEN ATTACK ON JUDGE THOMPSON

Downstate and Chicago
Drives Begin Together.

BY PARKE BROWN

Service men connected with the Republican state organization launched an organized drive at two points yesterday against Floyd E. Thompson, Democratic nominee for governor.

They opened their fight both in Chicago and downstate. The latter attack being made at Decatur, where Thompson was speaking last night. At the same hour as his meeting Decatur service men listened to L. R. Philbrook, first commander of Rock Island post No. 290 of the American Legion, condemn Thompson's record as state's attorney, coupling it up with his failure to get into the war.

Thompson Makes Reply.
Having obtained in advance a copy of the Republican publicity department's statement concerning the Decatur meeting former Justice Thompson anticipated the evening's activities there by answering the attack in the morning. He said that the attack was "old stuff" which he already had answered and insisted that as state's attorney he had masterfully assisted the federal government and other agencies in cleaning up vice conditions in his home county, devoting nights as well as days to the task.

The cover of the folder issued from Chicago Republican headquarters was decorated with a large question mark above which appeared the query: "What Was Floyd E. Thompson Doing While the Boys Were Over There?"

The contents included Thompson's earlier explanation that he remained at home during the war at the request of the war department that vice conditions in the county be cleared up. That was followed by republication of a recent letter written by Howard P. Savage, chairman of the organization issuing the folder, citing the approval from Secretary of War Baker to Gov. Frank O. Lowden on Feb. 23, 1918, asking for help in cleaning up the Rock Island situation.

Former Secretary Baker's letter also was included as was a resolution adopted in March of the same year by the chamber of commerce of Rock Island urging all local officials and all citizens to aid in the cleanup.

Democrats Ready for Campaign.
The Democratic county committee issued a formal announcement of its readiness to begin the campaign next Monday when the new headquarters on the second, third, and fourth floors of the Hotel Sherman—a total of fifty-four rooms—will be opened with a general reception.

"From then until Oct. 8, a period of two weeks," said County Chairman Martin J. O'Brien, "we shall devote all our efforts to organization work. That will carry us up to the second day of registration and at that time

Floyd Thompson, our nominee for governor, and other candidates and speakers will begin to address public meetings here by answering the attack.

"We intend to make the following four weeks before election day one of the most intensive campaigns for Al Smith and the entire Democratic ticket that this city has ever seen."

Hoover Berk, Lewis says.

In a communication to Tom Tamm, James Hamilton Lewis, former United States senator, charged that Herbert Hoover "fell into a lamentable error" in his speech at Newark, N. J. The error, he said, lay in Mr. Hoover's statement that the first two years of the Harding administration showed $2,000,000,000 more of exports than the last years of the Wilson administration.

"In the last two years of the Wilson administration, 1919 and 1920," said Mr. Lewis, "our exports to Europe were in excess of $3,000,000,000 while the exports under the Harding administration in 1921 and 1922 did not exceed $4,000,000,000 and in the latter years of this Coolidge administration have not exceeded $5,000,000,000."

The former senator also charged that the reduction in exports under the Republican Presidents has been in agricultural products and that the loss was "due to the international policy of the Harding-Coolidge administration."

Alvin Moody and other anti-Smith Democrats from Texas called at Hoover's western headquarters and told James W. Good, the manager, that they now have active Hoover clubs throughout their state.

DENEEN TELLS HOOVER HE'LL WIN ILLINOIS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Callers on Herbert Hoover today assured the Republican presidential nominee that he will carry New York and Illinois by safe majorities.

Senator Deneen (Rep., Ill.), luncheon guest at the Hoover home, told Mr. Hoover that, in his opinion, Illinois would give him a majority of at least 200,000.

Samuel S. Koenig, president of the New York committee, announced, following a call at Hoover headquarters, that, in his opinion, the normal majority of Gov. Smith in Greater New York will be cut in half this year, making a state victory for Hoover and Curtis probable.

See New York Victory.

"Every sign points to a great reduction in the majority which Gov. Smith has rolled up in Greater New York in his gubernatorial campaigns," Mr. Koenig said.

Former Congressman Nathan D. Perlman and Judge William Blau, who accompanied Mr. Koenig, agreed that

New York is "in fine shape" for a Hoover victory this fall. Elmer Rogers, Indiana state chairman, and Claude H. McKenzie, Minnesota committeeman, also called on Mr. Hoover. Rogers said both parties were suffering defections in his state, but for every one vote Hoover is losing Smith is losing two. McKenzie asserted that he expected his state to go for the G. O. P.

Senator Deneen conferred with Mr. Hoover for more than an hour. Some attention was given to the advisability of Mr. Hoover's going to Illinois to make a speech on agriculture. The Chicago situation was discussed at length.

Work Warns of Tariff Change.

Chairman Work of the national committee, in a letter to Republican state chairmen and others, emphasized that "the tariff is and should be a vital issue in the campaign."

"A Democratic victory would be followed by a general downward revision of tariff rates and the free listing of many commodities now protected."

Chairman Work asserted: "The erroneous impression has gone forth and is spreading, that there is no material difference between the Democratic and Republican stand on the tariff, consequently many are prone to say the tariff is not an issue. That impression is wholly erroneous. The tariff is and should be a vital issue in this campaign."

Governor Smith, in his acceptance speech, while trying to hand the country a sugar coated tariff pill, let the cat out of the bag by referring in complimentary terms to the ruinous Underwood act.

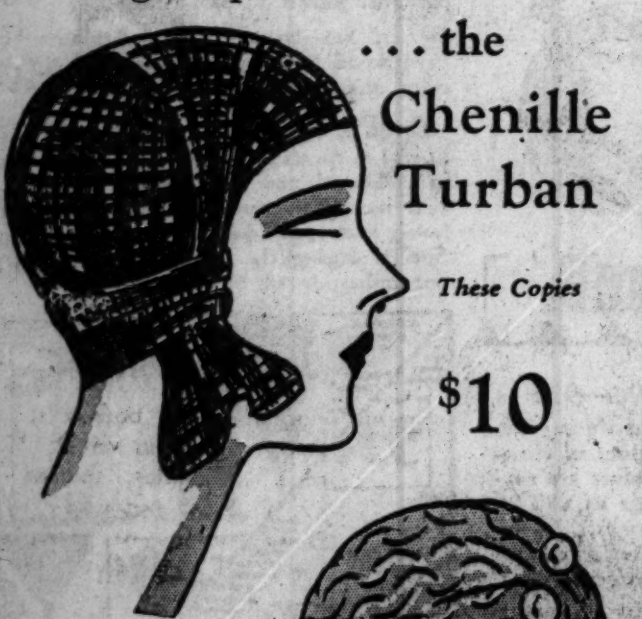

"The Republicans are standing four square for adequate protection for American workers and farmers. The Democrats stand on a platform plank, as interpreted by their candidate, that spells positive ruin to prosperity."

Work Visits Boston.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, arrived here today for a two day conference of party leaders on matters relating to the presidential campaign in New England. The scheduled address of Herbert Hoover here next month and arrangements for other Republican speakers were among the subjects to be taken up.

Ranieri Cas

Judge John A. Swanson, candidate for state's attorney, is the Tony Lombardo story dealing of Billy Ranieri a plain indication that a campaign, with politics and crime on the ground and in the air, is present in control in the city. Judge Swanson spoke at a luncheon of the Ravenswood Club. He was preceded by Brinker, executive chairman John A. Swanson Business organization.

"In the secret assassination of the Tony Lombardo story," he said, "we have made of a man shot down at night at Dearborn and Chicago, the heart of the section. And back of this little Italian child, the workings of this new nation, which has this crime grip."

POLITICS-CRIME NETWORK GRIPS CITY—SWANSON

Sees Workings of Ring in Ranieri Case.

Judge John A. Swanson, Republican candidate for state attorney, pointed out the workings of a network organization in the case of Billy Ranieri yesterday.

Swanson spoke at a noonday session of the Ravenswood Kiwanis club. He was preceded by Albert R. Swanson, executive chairman of the John A. Swanson Business Men's organization.

In the secret assassination of Lombardi, he said, "we have the spectacle of a man shot down in broad daylight at Dearborn and Madison streets, the heart of the downtown section. And back of the stealing of this little Italian child you can see the workings of this network organization, which has this community in its grip."

The releasing of little Billy and his restoration to his parents was attributed by Judge Swanson to the exposure of a power which feared the people would rise up if public attention was not diverted from this terrible crime.

"You hear a lot about boosting the great world's fair for Chicago four years from now," he continued. "But did you ever stop to think that if present conditions continue in Chicago, that fair is bound to be a failure, because people will be afraid to come to our city?"

Striking in a veiled way, apparently, at his Democratic opponent, Judge William J. Linday, Judge Swanson declared that "if I'm elected I won't wait until some policeman brings me information about a crime. That might mean that that case would be fixed somewhere before it ever got started. I'll go out and do some investigating on my own account."

"It was of no material benefit to me to get into this state's attorney's race," he said. "Just before I entered the primary I had been reflected judge of the Circuit court on the same salary which the state's attorney's office pays. And the next state's attorney's term expires even in advance of my present term as judge."

He predicted a general exodus of crooks from Chicago in case he is the successful candidate at the November election.

HOOVER 2 TO 1 AHEAD IN FIRST MAGAZINE POLL

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The first results of the Literary Digest presidential poll, published today, show a vote of two to one for Herbert Hoover over Gov. Smith, the totals being: Hoover, 21,756; Smith, 10,222.

The ballots come from five states—California, Maryland, Nebraska, New Jersey, and Wisconsin. Hoover leads in each state, and only in Maryland and Wisconsin does he have less than double the Smith vote.

The poll is especially interesting in view of the fact that Maryland, New Jersey, and Wisconsin have been tagged as "hard fight" states by the Republicans and have been claimed by John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

About the only good news the Democrats can find in the tabulation is that Smith is profiting from bolters much more than Hoover is. Of Smith's 10,222 supporters, 4,455 voted for Coolidge in 1924. Of Hoover's 21,756 total, 2,416 were Democrats four years ago.

The poll shows 15,420 votes for Hoover in New Jersey, against 6,588 for Smith. This is a poor showing for Gov. Smith in a state he must carry if he is to win the presidency.

The Wisconsin figures are somewhat more pleasing to the Democrats. There Smith polled 1,815 to 2,888 for Hoover, 961 of Smith's supporters being bolters, against 150 of Hoover's.

The Maryland vote—887 for Hoover to 479 for Smith—is especially bright from the Republican standpoint.

Nebraska shows 2,340 for Hoover, against 1,138 for Smith. In this state the farm issue probably will be the deciding factor. The straw ballots were cast before Gov. Smith spoke in Omaha.

Consistent use of Tribune space in- creased Pabst-ett sales 122%

FRED PABST, JR.
First Vice President
PABST CORPORATION

A GAIN the superiority of the Chicago Tribune in selling food products is proved.

This time it was not simply a case of increasing sales of an established product. A new food, as well as a new brand name, had to be put over. Obviously it is more difficult to sell an article that requires a change in habits as well as in the product itself. Distribution is handicapped, acceptance is slower, selling is more difficult.

Pabst-ett was introduced to Chicago in October, 1926. The sale that month was very small, due to the fact that no advertising was used. The following month the first Pabst-ett advertisement appeared in the Chicago Tribune. Immediately the business showed a tremendous increase.

AN AVERAGE IN- CREASE OF 112%

Pabst-ett advertising appeared in the Tribune nearly every month last year.

"The Chicago Tribune has been our major advertising medium in the middle west. We feel that it gives us not only the needed strength in Chicago and suburbs, but that it does us a tremendous amount of good, also, throughout Zone 7."

Fred Pabst

As a result of this consistent advertising campaign in the Tribune, says Mr. Pabst, November, 1927, sales showed an increase of 122% over November, 1926, the first month of Tribune advertising. The average monthly increase in sales during 1927 over 1926 was 112%.

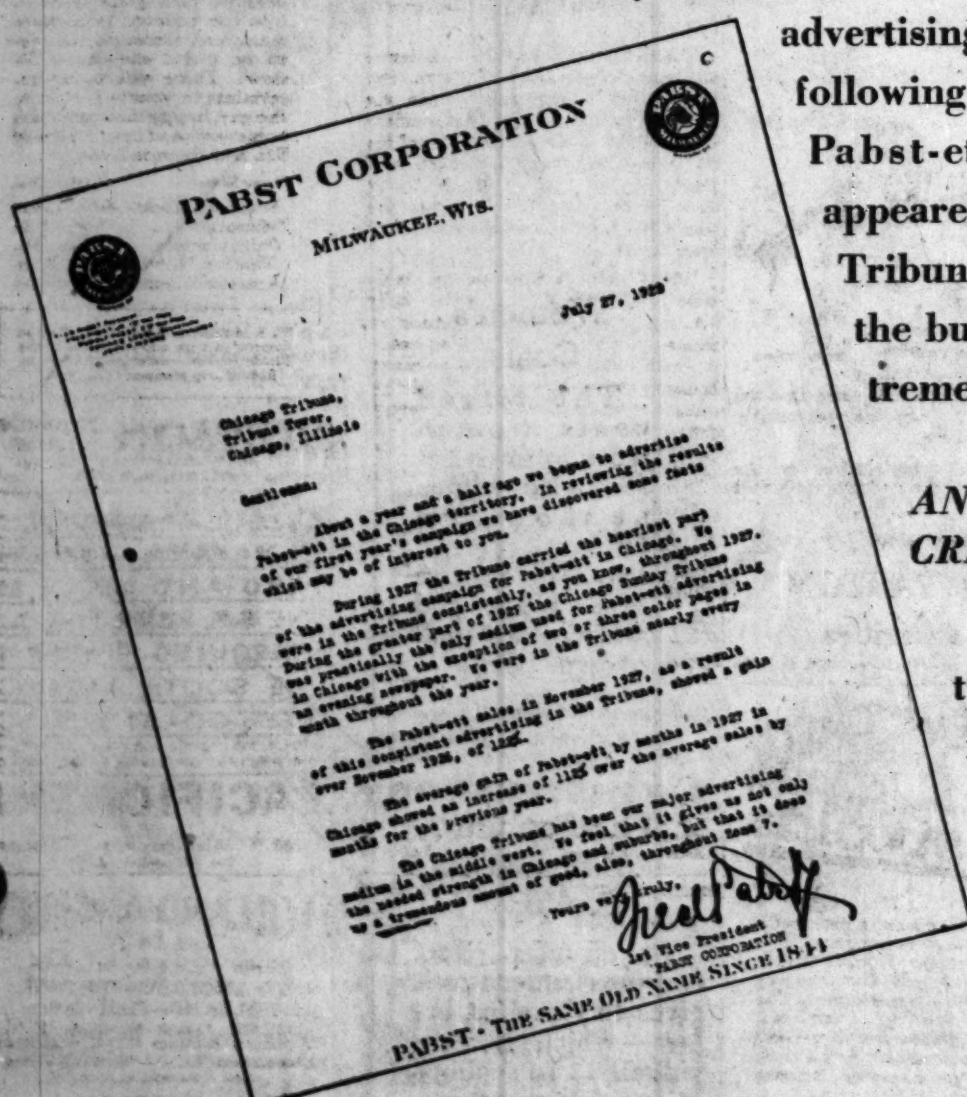

Pabst recognizes the influence of the Tribune throughout the Chicago territory—particularly in reaching women; and again this year is using the Tribune as its principal advertising medium in the middle west. The Sunday Tribune is one of four media used for national coverage. The others are magazines, two of them being publications expressly for women. The Sunday Tribune's dominance in the five states of Zone 7 distinguishes it from the ordinary newspaper reaching only the families in the city of publication and makes it particularly valuable to Pabst in the sections where their distribution is highest.

WHY WOMEN PREFER THE TRIBUNE

Women read the Tribune. They like it for its orderly make up, its interesting and authoritative women's features, its comic strips which depend upon human emotions rather than slap-stick (for example: Little Orphan Annie and Gasoline Alley); its well-written, well-reported news stories; its first-run fiction, daily and Sunday, by the world's best writers; and its overwhelming superiority in the amount of advertising addressed expressly to women.

Food advertisers spend more for advertising in the Tribune than in any other Chicago newspaper. Their returns in increased sales justify this expenditure. The Tribune's popularity among women—as tested by actual vote—has increased the tendency of advertisers who want to reach women to concentrate their Chicago campaigns in one newspaper, the Tribune.

Husband, Children Near Death; Driver Held.

A mother was killed and her husband and two children critically injured last night when their auto collided with another at Ridgeland avenue and the old Sauk trail west of Madison.

The woman, Mrs. C. H. Coote, 35 years old, 627 South Troy street, died at St. James hospital, Chicago Heights. The husband, a 12 year old son, and an infant daughter, also died at the same hospital. Physicians there held out little hope of Coote's recovery.

Charles Ross, living at the Grand hotel, Joliet, driver of the other car, was only shaken in the collision. County highway police held him at the Homewood station.

Three Other Deaths in Day.

Three other deaths in Cook county auto accidents resulted the 1928 toll to 158. The dead:

Mrs. Mary Krug, 49 years old, 1620 Hubbard street, who was knocked over by an automobile on Aug. 25 while in front of 5883 Milwaukee avenue, died at her home, Thomas Saura, 124 North Campbell avenue, was the driver of the automobile.

Pasquale Zito, 60 years old, 1426 North Lawler avenue, was struck by an automobile at North and Le Claire avenues. He died on the way to St. Ann's hospital. The driver, John McLean, 1414 North Austin boulevard, was held.

An unidentified man, apparently a Mexican, was struck and killed by an automobile in front of 5009 West 63d street. David Glimmer, 7710 Prairie avenue, the driver, was held.

Six persons were injured in train-auto crashes on three suburban grade crossings yesterday.

Mrs. Adeline Trautman, 48 years old, of Elmhurst, received a fractured rib and a punctured lung when her car was struck by an electric train at Spring street in Elmhurst.

Two Seriously Injured.

R. A. Van Nuytern, 11542 Princeton avenue, and Eugene Della Rose, address unknown, suffered injuries that may cause their deaths. Their car was hit by a Grand Trunk freight train at 147th street in Harvey.

A passenger train hit two automobiles on a C. & N. W. crossing in Downers Grove. W. R. March of Wheatmont, alone in one of the machines, suffered cuts and bruises. Ethel E. Billingsley of Downers Grove, driver of the second car, also escaped with minor injuries but his wife suffered a dislocated hip.

Young Prisoner Identified

as McHenry Bank Robber
Eugene Lombardi, 20 years old, arrested on Wednesday at Kedzie and Chicago avenues, was identified last night by Gerald Cary, cashier of the McHenry State bank, McHenry, Ill., as one of six bandits who scooped up $11,000 in the bank on Aug. 14 and fled before a fusillade fired by vigilantes.

REESE OF NEBRASKA ELECTED COMMANDER BY G. A. R. VETERANS

Denver, Colo., Sept. 20.—(AP)—John Reese of Broken Bow, Neb., today was elected unanimously commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the closing session of its sixty-second annual encampment. He succeeds Commander Elbridge L. Hawk of Sacramento, Cal.

Portland, Me., was chosen as the 1929 encampment site over Sacramento.

Other officers elected were: Dr. S. W. Hopkins, Lodi, Cal., surgeon general; J. King Gibson, Dayton, O., chaplain in chief; and Louis F. Arenberg, East Millsboro, Penn., trustee of the permanent fund.

FISH FAN CLUB FILES PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

The twisted financial affairs of the Fish Fans' club were taken into federal court yesterday with the filing of a voluntary petition in bankruptcy by Attorney Thomas W. Reilly on behalf of the management. The petition lists liabilities of $32,570 and assets of $12,130.

Apparently one of the reasons why the club got into financial difficulties, it was said, was the penchant of members for initiating their bills for meals and extras. Of the assets, $6,475 represents debts due on open accounts, of which delayed dues and I. O. U's are a part, and $5,000 in personal property. The liabilities are mostly bills for meals and foodstuffs consumed by the political supporters of Mayor Thompson.

In the log of the craft appears mention of a raid by the government and orders that if its cabaret and gaming tables were not thrown overboard the park officials would burn the boat. The club, one of the directors has stated, will remain in existence.

FEAR FOR WOMAN WHO REVEALED MURDER OF BOYS

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Mrs. Winnifred Clark, whose information led to the arrest of her brother, Stuart Northcott, in connection with the "murder farm" in California, was still missing today, and grave fears are felt for her safety.

E. Eugene Herbert, United States vice consul here, who worked with Mrs. Clark in the investigation which led to the arrest of Northcott and his mother, fears Mrs. Clark may have been slain some time during the last five days. A taxicab driver reported today he had driven Mrs. Clark, Northcott, and his mother to Central park in Vancouver one night last week. Mrs. Clark has not been seen since.

Gordon Northcott Collapses.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 20.—[U.P.]—Physical collapse of Gordon Stewart Northcott, alleged California boy murderer, prevented his removal from Kamloops to Vancouver today, it was understood here. The provincial police admitted that plans for the immediate removal of Northcott had been held up and that he would be kept in Kamloops for further interrogation.

Hope to Extradite.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—If funds can be found to augment the $1,000 allowed Riverside county officers for the expenses of extraditing a prisoner, Sheriff Clem Sweeters and District Attorney Albert Ford will go to Vancouver, B. C., and bring Gordon Northcott and Mrs. Louisa Northcott back to this city by airplane. New murder warrants accusing each of guilt in the death of four boys, and naming the boys, probably will replace tomorrow the "John Doe" warrant already issued. District Attorney Ford has convened the county grand jury for tomorrow and

EX-POLICE CHIEF AT ZION WEDS BANISHED GIRL

Reports circulated in Zion City for the last few days that Theodore R. Becker, former chief of the city police department, and Miss Virginia Umberger, who was banished from Zion two years ago by Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva, are married, were confirmed yesterday by Frank Umberger, a grocer at Kokomo, Ind., and a brother of Virginia. He said they were united in marriage at Kokomo on Aug. 10.

Mrs. Becker was barred from the Zion church and ordered out of the city by Overseer Voliva because of an alleged affair with Clarence Shreffler, while both were employed in Zion institutions. She formerly served as private secretary to her husband, when he was chief of police and head of the Zion printing department. Becker took her part in the trouble claiming the charges against her were untrue. Shortly after she was ousted by Voliva, Becker resigned his office.

The murdered victims named in the prosecutor's new papers are Nelson Winslow, 12, Pomona; Louis Winslow, 10, Pomona; Walter Collins, 9, Los Angeles; "John Doe," a 15 or 16 year old boy of foreign parentage. The pseudo Walter Collins, whose identity became linked with the question of the real Walter Collins' fate as one of the asserted victims of Gordon Northcott, tonight was fully identified. The boy who hoodwinked police in Illinois and Los Angeles into accepting him for two months as the real Walter Collins tonight confessed his identity as Arthur Hutchins Jr., 12, whose father lives at Marion, Ia.

The boy ran away from home last June, he said, because he did not get along with his step-mother. His mother, divorced from Arthur Hutchins, is now Mrs. John Christie, Clinton, Ia.

Dispatches to Iowa indicated the truth of the youth's final story of name and address, and the boy who tried to assume the name and family ties of a slain child he did not know will be returned to Iowa by Los Angeles police.

REPLACING COSMETICS WITH Natural Loveliness

Underneath powder and rouge lies a radiant skin. Cleanse with palm and olive oils THIS WAY to find it

THE American girl's complexion is the wonder of foreigners on our shores. The average American girl with her fresh, radiant skin would rate as a raving beauty in many foreign countries. And that is because she knows the value of natural loveliness. Because she has discarded the artificialities that once threatened our national beauty. She knows the value of "that schoolgirl complexion!" It is really very simple, if you will only try it for a week. Just do this nightly. Wash the face gently with the soothing lather of Palmolive Soap. With your two hands massage its unguent oils into the pores, gently freeing the day's accumulation of make-up and soil. Then rinse first with warm, then cold water. Dry by gently patting with a soft towel. Add a dash of good cold cream if dryness threatens, that is all. Get genuine Palmolive, that is the important thing. Substitutes are never "just as good."

ANZACS' CUP OF TEA ADS IN TENNIS VICTORY

Defeat Southern Team in Intersectional Play.

BY HOWARD ROBERTS.

The good old English custom of a afternoon cup of tea yesterday kept all the international color from being washed from United States intersectional team tennis matches in the opening round of play at the Chicago Town and Tennis club.

Young Jack Crawford and the still younger Harry Hopman of the Australian Davis cup squad, the lone foreign entrants and favorites to reach the final round, were the ones to receive the custom at a time when they were in vital need of something to warm the tide of battle which rapidly was running against them.

The two youths from "down under" were opposed to Donald Cram of Nashville, Tenn., and Daniel Murray of New Orleans, La., and the southern players proved unexpectedly stubborn. Crawford won his match from Cram after getting away to a poor start, by scores of 9-7, 5-6, 6-0, but Murray succumbed to Murray, leaving the issue squarely up to the double match. The southerners, maintaining their steady pace, grabbed the first set at 9-7.

Regain Their Stride.
Then the Australians called a halt. A pot of tea was carried out to them on the courts, and, having drunk their fill, the Australians regained their stride to grab the next two sets, 6-4, 6-2, and enter the semi-final.

Gus Lott and John Hennessey, representing the Western association, also advanced, but without so much as lifting a racket, as their opponents, the Texas team, failed to appear. However, obliged his home town boys by appearing long enough to defeat John Van Ryn in one set exhibition match, 3-7.

The unexpected strength of the southern team was due largely to the power concealed in the racket of Murray, who, after wasting opportunities repeatedly, finally outlasted Hopman in a marathon match which lasted through the hours of good, bad, and indifferent tennis. The former Tulane university star's margin of victory was 4-10, 13-11.

Hopman Has Poor Control.
Hopman had poor control of his second strokes and although he occasionally showed flashes of brilliance, he was not in the mood for the most part. Crawford, who went to the quarter-finals of the national singles championships last week, seemed determined to get the start of his match with Cram. He merely slouched along the line and relied solely on his deep forehanders. He continued his sluggish play in the second set, but in the third he opened up, flashing all over the court to smother all of the young southerner's shots. In the fourth set it was his work at the net which led off the south's waning hope.

Two Matches Today.
Today the middle states team of Fred Mercer and Sam Gilpin will face Sidney Hyde and Frank Luce of New England, while Van Ryn and Gregory Mangin of the eastern association oppose the Missouri valley team of Harris Coggeshall and Ted Ryan.

Maroon Grid Players Nurse Minor Bruises

Everything has proceeded calmly at the University of Chicago football practice this week, but yesterday minor injuries appeared. Van Nice, Freudenthal and Greer, quarter back candidates, were somewhat incapacitated, Greer the most seriously, as he is finding a crutch helpful.

Phelps Pratt, although limping, is in a suit and practicing, as is Malcolm Proudfoot, who nurses a strained shoulder. Eller and Brinlin, guard candidates, are slightly bruised, as is Krogh, veteran end. With the exception of Greer, however, their hurts are only temporary.

Mendenhall and Libby, two leading half backs, haven't ironed out their scholastic difficulties and probably will not be available for the first game. They are almost certain to be eligible for the conference tilt.

Yesterday was devoted to showing the linemen blocking and charging technique, with some instruction for the guards in pulling out of the line and getting into the interference. The backs threw passes and received them alternately most of the day.

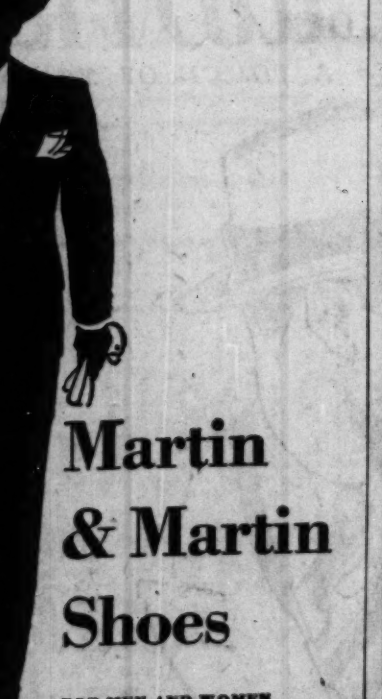

The first scrimmage is set for Saturday afternoon, with another one on Monday. Coach Stagg is hustling at top speed to whip two teams into condition for the Ripon-South Carolina double header a week from Saturday.

HANLEY WANTS TACKLERS

A long defensive drill for the linemen and concentrated efforts on forward passing for the backs constituted the major portion of yesterday's football workout at Northwestern university. Registration kept some of the squad indoors most of the day, and it was only during the final hour, when jummy scrimmages against the mammoth drilling machine was the routine, that all candidates were together.

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

HOW TO PLAY FOOTBALL

BY WALTER ECKERSALL. Article V. THE ENDS.

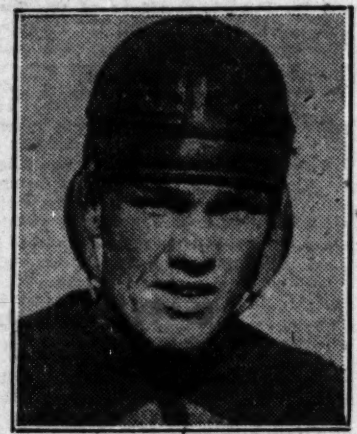

In the development of successful football teams, ends are of major importance. They have so much more to do than the ends of the old days that coaches generally choose the larger and stronger candidates. Most coaches develop at least three sets of wing players.

On offense the end should play close to his tackle. He never should be drawn out by the defensive tackle, who will try to jockey him into a position to give the play away. This is a practice of defensive tackles that has worked many times. Sometimes the offensive end will be assisted by his wing back in taking out the defensive tackle. In many cases, the first charge will put the tackle out of the play and either the end or back can go on to cut down the secondary.

The end should take all the ground he can on offense. He should assume the same position on every play and must not give the formation away by leaning in the direction of the play or tensing the body. On plays which are sent around the opposite side, the end should follow, although some coaches teach their flank men to crash through and help take off the secondary. Following the play around to retrieve possible fumbles is undoubtedly the best method. If the play goes to the other side of the line inside of tackle, it is better for the end to break through and help in the interference.

On all plays sent on the end's side of the center, it is his primary duty to box the tackle unless there is a spread formation with an unbalanced line. Then he may be delegated to take out other players.

On defense the end plays two to four yards from his tackle. As soon as the ball is snapped, he should take a step or two down the field. If he sees the play is coming at him, he should hurl his body at the knees of the interferers. He must be certain that he hits the interference in a way that will turn the ball carrier to the inside. It is inexcusable for an end to permit a runner to circle him. If the interference is not compact, the smashing end can use his hands to weave through the interferers to get at the man with the ball. When plays are sent to the other side, the end always should follow around.

When their team punts, the ends should move out twelve to fifteen yards from the tackle. They should stiff arm opponents to get down the field and must remember to drive the receiver of the punt inside and never to over run the player who catches the ball. The same is true of kick-offs and kicks after fair catches.

When the defensive ends are sure the opposing eleven will punt, they should drop back of the scrimmage line about seven yards and the same number outside their tackles. In this position they will be able to follow opposing ends down the field after the kick has been sent away. In many cases the defensive ends are helped by their backs in driving opposing ends between them. If the defensive ends are not sure of a kick, they should play in their regular positions on the scrimmage line and let the defensive half backs take out the ends of the kicking team. On defense an end never should be caught in a position where he can be boxed.

Among some of the great ends who measured up to these requirements are Easton of Minnesota, Carney of Illinois, Kirk of Michigan and Muller of California.

Welch's Agile Toe Cheers Purdue Fans

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Despite his much discussed knee injury, Ralph Welch, Purdue's burly half back, was booting the ball with his old time form this afternoon during a lengthy kicking workout in the Bollmaker camp. Welch kicked 59 to 60 yards several times and in a snappy signal drill that followed scampered about the field as though his knee never had been strained.

Paced with a strenuous October schedule that calls for Big Ten games against Minnesota, Chicago, and Wisconsin, Coach James Phelan continued to drive the Bollmaker squad at a fast pace.

Following the usual wind sprints, calisthenics and kicking and passing drill, scrimmage was the order of the day. Forward passing defense and offense was emphasized during the scrimmage. Glen Harmonson, Line Cook, Eb Caraway, and Al Guthrie worked together in one backfield for a time, while Bill Miller, Meyer, Johnny Schwartz, and Hal Chasey, all were given a chance to show their wares.

Capt. Laab, Beloit Grid Star, Quits School

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Beloit college's football hopes received a severe blow here today when Coach Campbell Dickson announced he had received definite information that Capt. Bud Laab, star full back, would not return to school this fall.

Gunnard Johnson, husky Rockford, Ill., sophomore, is being groomed to take Laab's place.

OTHER GRID CAMPS

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—In an effort to get more driving power into the back field, Coach Dr. C. W. Spears made a drastic change in the Gopher football lineup today. He sent Bronk Nagerulski to the full back position. Nagerulski has been playing tackle and was expected to be one of the outstanding linemen. The Bronk asked for a chance at full back and had his first showing in scrimmage today. Another stiff scrimmage was held today, but Spears was not satisfied with the way his combinations worked, making several changes during the drill. Hunt for a good punter is still on.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Development of punters, kick off and place kick men was the task undertaken in the Indiana university football INDIANA practices today by Coach Page. Harrell of Indianapolis, who did most of the punting for the Hoosiers last season, showed form today. Hughes, Gary and Moss, Wabash sophomores, Ball, Indianapolis and Reinhardt, Racine, Wis., Brukner, Fort Wayne and other backfield men were tried.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Irving H. Nelson, Omaha, Neb., sophomore quarter back candidate, joined the list of plain clothes men decorating the side lines on a field today as Coach Burton Ingersoll sent his charges through a stiff scrimmage drill. Nelson, a promising candidate for the back field job, will be out for two weeks or more with a fractured rib, sustained in yesterday's practice. Other victims of injuries are Mike Farroh, sophomore half back, who has a lame leg; Gus Mastogony, sophomore end, whose sore leg is also keeping him out of service, and Pat Affr, sophomore back field aspirant, who sustained a dislocated elbow.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Following the announcement of his morning by Coach R. H. Yost that the Michigan squad of 80 to about 60 on Saturday, the Wolverine football candidates displayed their efforts in today's practice session. Yost will be retained throughout the season and all will see action either as A or B players.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Wisconsin football candidates spent part of their practice period today in dummy AT and punt scrimmage, and WISCONSIN were expecting Head Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite to order the real thing by Saturday.

The ends sent down the field in punt scrimmage looked too weak on open field tackling to satisfy Line Coach Leard. Allison, Milt Gantenbein, La Crosse, Ed Ziese of Milwaukee, a letter man, and Lewis Smith of Chicago sophomore back, continue to have the edge on the punters.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Following the announcement of his morning by Coach R. H. Yost that the Michigan squad of 80 to about 60 on Saturday, the Wolverine football candidates displayed their efforts in today's practice session. ## Big Season Looms for Fowl Hunters

BY BOB BECKER.

According to reports from the northern prairie where millions of acres of lakes, ponds, rivers, and marshes afford nesting sites and feeding grounds for ducks and geese, this has been a good year for waterfowl. This should mean many birds on the wing when the southern migration starts and good sport for the hunters. Locally [and by locally we mean the middle west], the picture can be touched up still further as water and feed conditions are excellent in the Illinois river duck country, the rendezvous of thousands of hunters later in the fall.

From Alberta comes the cheering report that the marsh and lake country is alive with big flocks of waterfowl. A few weeks ago they were positively a nuisance because the flocks swept down upon the wheat fields and threatened to clean up the grain before the farmers could cut and harvest it.

Saskatchewan also reports a good "crop" of birds. Farmers in the Dakota have complained to the conservation commission about the inroads which the big flocks of mallards and other ducks have been making upon their grain.

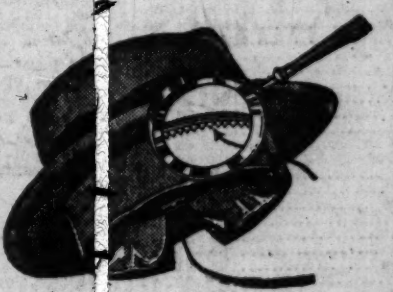

Martin Hogan of Barrington, Ill., recently returned from a trip through Alberta and other Canadian provinces, says that one of the ducks which apparently increased its numbers this season is the blue wing teal. He reports seeing unusually big flocks of teal in the prairie marshes, lakes and rivers.

Here is the construction of the Emerson Interlocking, Double-Sewn Sweat Band. A waterproof interlining is first stitched to the sweat leaser, then sewn to the hat self. This patented feature keeps the sweat leaser and stitching from coming in contact with the hat and prevents the silk band and body of Emerson Hats from becoming stained or soiled by perspiration.

His Constituents Almost Need Rubber Boots.

BY MARCO POLO JR.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Senator Wesley L. Jones, of the Anti-Saloon league, has been in the city for several days, but he comes from a wet environment, for Seattle is so dripping with water that here the camel almost needs to wear rubber boots.

One leader of thought became apologetic when the subject of Volsteadism was broached in his office. "I haven't read anything here," says he, "but if you'd run out to the house—No! ## TAX RULING SAVES N. F. M'CORMICK HEIRS $1,802,745

Fund Created by Widow of Harvester Man.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Nearly $2,000,000 was saved the estate of the late Nettie Fowler McCormick of Chicago today under a ruling of the board of tax appeals which held, among other things, that a $7,400,000 trust fund created by the widow of the founder of the International Harvester company, five years before her death, in 1923, is not subject to the federal estate tax. The fund, the board decided, was not created by Mrs. McCormick "in contemplation of death."

Appeal to Tax Board.
The opinion ends a controversy begun several years ago when Cyrus H. McCormick, chairman of the International Harvester company board, Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the company's executive committee, and Mrs. Nettie M. Blaine, executrix of her mother's estate and beneficiary of the trust fund, appealed to the board for a redetermination of an alleged deficiency in the tax against the estate.

Computing the estate for taxation purposes, the internal revenue bureau not only included the trust fund but also disallowed a number of deductions reported by the executors as attorneys' fees, executors' commissions and miscellaneous items and finally arrived at a total deficiency of $1,825,902.91. The effect of the board's decision today is to reduce the deficiency to $1,802,745.18 to the estate.

Trust Agreement.
In July, 1918, Mrs. McCormick set aside 5,753 shares of the capital stock of the original McCormick Harvesting Machine company under a trust agreement providing that her numerous philanthropies should be cared for from the income during her lifetime and that after her death the income should be equally divided between her three children whose heirs ultimately will share the principal.

CONGRESS SHOULD BACK 1933 FAIR, DAWES DECLARES

Congress should support Chicago's world's fair in 1933 because of its national and international scope, President Rutherford B. Dawes of the centennial committee declared last night before 100 representatives of Chicago's national groups. They met to hear him in the rooms of the Chicago Bar association in the Burnham building, La Salle and Randolph streets.

Seventy-five per cent of Chicago's citizens have been born abroad or are the children of foreign born parents, Mr. Dawes stated. It is this condition, he said, that makes it fitting for this city's centennial celebration to take the form of a world's fair.

Chauncey McCormick, a member of the world's fair trustees, spoke briefly. Felix Stuechmann, chairman of the national groups, reported progress in the enrollment campaign among the various "aces."

NEW CITIZENS ARE WARNED OF 'RED' ACTIVITIES
Circuit Judge Clair Edwards, at a naturalization program at Waukegan yesterday, at which 130 Lake county aliens became citizens of the United States, warned the new citizens of the national groups, reported progress in the enrollment campaign among the various "aces."

Carol and Sweetie in Paris to See Brother and Sweetie
PARIS, Sept. 20.—Former Crown Prince Carol of Roumania and Mme. Magda Lupescu popped up in Paris unexpectedly this afternoon. They were immediately into seclusion in a hotel in the Champs Elysees district. It is said one of the purposes of his visit is to call on his brother, Prince Nicholas, who is spending most of his time here with a woman with whom he fled Roumania recently.

MICHAEL ALTMAN, GROCERY FIRM OFFICIAL, IS DEAD

Michael Altman, 75 years old, wealthy former president of the John G. Newmark company, wholesale grocer, collapsed yesterday while attending a physicians' luncheon in the Medical and Dental Arts club at 185 North Wabash avenue and died before the forty physicians at the table could aid him. His death was attributed to heart disease.

Three weeks ago the concern which Mr. Altman headed for many years was absorbed by Durand, McNeill & Horner, and he has since been connected with the latter company. Mr. Altman was a widower. He resided at the East End Park hotel, 5241 Hyde Park boulevard.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. in the chapel at 936 East 47th street. Burial will be at Rosehill cemetery. Mr. Altman is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edith A. Stern; a son, Robert M. Altman, and a sister, Mrs. Rebecca Kaufman.

MONTANA'S BACK PORCH BREAKS; 1 DEAD, 2 HURT
James O'Brien, 62 years old, 2438 Douglas boulevard, was killed and two fellow workmen were seriously injured yesterday afternoon when the stairs leading to the third floor porch of a building at 1021 South Ashland avenue collapsed under the weight of a 500 pound icebox they were carrying.

The injured are William Ketzner, 26 years old, 2044 North Lockwood avenue, and Chester Harteroff, 25 years old, of La Grange. The three men, who were employed by a moving concern, were thrown to the ground when the stairway fell. Ketzner's injuries were regarded as critical.

William Whitman, Cotton Manufacturer, Dies at 86

It's not hard to make a show like "The Girl Question" live again in all its brightness. Harry W. Spingold is going to turn up the footlights on this famous old hit of the early twentieth century and allow it to play in all its old glory at 9 o'clock tonight. This show is one of the masterpieces by Hough, Adams and Howard, so popular at the La Salle theatre at that time.

FLAVIO
Flavio Placencia will sing through W-G-N tonight. There is a certain color present in the voice of Flavio Placencia not found in the voices of native northerners. This young Mexican baritone is one of the most promising of radio singers. His talent was recognized in Mexico City when he was offered a scholarship of study abroad. Listen to Senor Placencia this evening and hear "The Voice with the Warmth of the South." 8:30.
